Football Queen to be Crowned at Game Friday

Salem High School's 1959 Football Queen will be crowned during halftime ceremonies of the Cleveland Lincoln game here on Friday night.

The queen will be one of seven senior candidates nominated by classmates last spring. Results of the final voting have been kept secret and will not be made known until last year's football girl, Gayle Parker, places the crown on the head of the new queen. Candidates pictured above looking hopefully at Miss Parker are: front row (l. to r.) Pat Kaercher, Karen Elliott, Linda Heston and Mickey Cope. Second row: Sandy Eyster, Sally Fester and Kay Kuhl.

All of these girls will take part in the football parade and pep rally scheduled to get underway tonight at 7:30. The parade will start on Jennings Ave. at W. State St., travel east on State St. to Ohio Ave. and south to Reilly Stadium. Among the marching units will be the Quaker City and High School bands, football team, coaches, cheerleaders, band mothers, and anyone else who cares to participate. At Reilly Stadium, Coach Earle Bruce and some of the football players will speak about the coming season. The parade was arranged by the Booster Club.

New Disarmament Proposal Foreseen

Ike Presents USW, Industry New Proposal

Board of Review Offered In Move To End Dispute

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower, in a major move aimed at ending the nation's steel strike, has offered to designate a nongovernmental board of review to recommend settlement terms.

The offer was swiftly accepted by Steelworkers President David J. McDonald in a telegram dispatched Wednesday to the White House.

But industry leaders made no move to accept.

Eisenhower emphasized that his offer was contingent on acceptance by both industry and union officials.

A statement issued by R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry spokesman, said: "The companies have not asked for any form of government intervention and will not request appointment of a fact-finding board."

The industry often has stated its opposition to government intervention of any kind in the strike, now 65 days old. Cooper's statement said the companies seek "only for sensible two-way bargaining by the union."

In his offer, the President carefully drew the distinction that the nongovernmental group would have power only to review the issues and to recommend a settlement.

Eisenhower simultaneously rejected any appointment of a governmental fact-finding board to intervene in the worsening work stoppage.

The President's offer was made three days ago in a letter to President George Meany of the AFL-CIO, although it was made public only Wednesday by the United Steelworkers.

Eisenhower's offer was prompted by an earlier letter to him from Meany in which the AFL-CIO chieftain had expressed opposition to any Taft-Hartley law intervention in the steel strike.

Instead, Meany said, he would suggest that Eisenhower name an impartial fact-finding board.

Satellite Called Transit I

Thor-Able Rocket Roaring to Orbit

BULLETIN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States failed today to put into orbit a satellite designed for experimenting with a global navigation system.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Thor-Able rocket roared skyward today carrying a 265-pound satellite that could open the way to an accurate space navigation system for ships and planes.

An announcement on whether the 36-inch spherical satellite went into orbit around the earth was expected in Washington later.

The 90-foot Thor-Able rose from a mass of boiling flames at 9:34 a.m. EST and climbed swiftly for a minute before curving toward the northeast.

A brilliant tail of fire traced the rocket's course as it sped rapidly from sight, vanishing in about three minute.

The satellite, called Transit I, is designed to explore the feasibility of using satellites as navigation stations in space. These satellites

Soviet Premier Gives Buildup To Red Offer

Khrushchev Leaves For New York City Aboard 15-Car Train

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev hit the big town today in brisk, sunny weather, expressing hope a bright sun always would shine on Soviet - American relations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev set out for New York today with an expression of hope that the sun will always shine "on our relations and our two countries."

He also gave a promise of new disarmament proposals. He gave the move a big buildup with an extraordinary two - day Washington performance.

Bright and early, the energetic Soviet chieftain left the President's guest house and was driven to Union Station to board his special 15-car train. It pulled out at 8:21 a.m. and was due in New York at 12:05 p.m.

The visiting Communist leader stated his hope in a brief informal departure speech at the station.

The world Communist leader announced in his major Washington speech that the Soviet Union intends to make new disarmament proposals before the United Nations, where he speaks Friday.

He may have something spectacular to submit. But whether his address is a surprise or not, the consensus here is that his performance on the first leg of his historic visit to the United States already has added up to significant propaganda for Moscow.

He himself has conceded that thus far he has offered no new proposals. He has suggested that the main antagonists in the cold war, if they want to avoid turning this earth into "ashes and graves," must find ways of composing their differences on the future use of nuclear power and rocket science.

At the same time he has promised he will present something in the way of disarmament proposals at the United Nations.

In Washington, Khrushchev asked for more "give" on both sides to avoid the grim prospect of a new world war. There was nothing new in this statement. But there was something for Americans to ponder in the way he handled himself in Washington, and in his deft handling of the sharpest interrogation Washington had to offer.

His performance was regarded by many observers as a valuable service to world Communist propaganda.

Moscow's 65-year-old iron man subjected himself to a grueling schedule and showed himself no worse for wear. He submitted himself to open, public interrogation. He responded to questions with the dexterity of a practiced politician.

Many who attended the luncheon session Wednesday at which Khrushchev addressed the National Press Club, the Women's National Press Club and the Overseas Writers obviously were hostile to Khrushchev's views. But the Soviet leader melted the ice to the extent that he had his audience laughing and applauding.

From the luncheon, Khrushchev proceeded to a meeting with

First Autumn Cold Snap Hits

Youngstown Has Reading of 30

By The Associated Press

The first autumn cold snap, earliest on record in some areas, dropped temperatures below freezing in section of northern Ohio today.

At Youngstown, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported a 30-degee reading just before dawn. That's the coldest day so early in autumn since the weather bureau started keeping records at Youngstown Municipal Airport 14 years ago.

Unofficial observers reported low of 26 degrees in Waco (Stark County) and Strongsville (Cuyahoga County).

In Cleveland, a recording of 39 degrees cracked 59-year record. The previous low for the day at the U.S. Weather Bureau at Cleveland Hopkins Airport was 44 degrees in 1900.

The lowest temperature for this early in the fall season also was recorded in Toledo, 34, Akron, 35, and Columbus, 37.

Pandora in Putnam County reported freezing temperatures and a heavy frost, ending the shortest growing season on record.

The cold snap, moving down out of Canada, is expected to linger through Friday.

Last week, northern Ohio sweltered in a heat wave that sent temperatures into the middle 90s.

Brrrr, It Was Cold Here This Morning

You were 100 per cent correct if you said, "Man, it's cold this morning."

From a "warm" 28 degrees during the middle of the night, the mercury slid to a low of 20 degrees shortly after 6 a.m. today at the city sewage disposal plant, customarily one of the coldest spots in the area.

"There was a pretty heavy frost" the plant operator added in reporting the city's night-time temperatures.

Dangers of New Materials Cited By Physicians

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Industrial workers and physicians must watch for danger in new industrial materials, a Health Department official warned Wednesday.

Dr. Thomas F. Mancuso, addressing the Ohio Academy of General Practice here, said new chemicals may be put into use faster than their dangers can be determined.

Mancuso, chief of the state's Industrial Hygiene Division, will supervise Ohio's new control program for radiation and air pollution.

He told the group that good ventilation and dust control are essential in industry, as is safe building design. He also urged frequent physical examinations and medical controls to put workers on jobs according to physical limitations.

Passage of Bond Issue Urged

Urgent Need for New County Home Cited

A campaign to inform the residents of Columbiana County of squalid conditions at the County Home near Lisbon and to promote the passage of a $989,000 bond issue for a new home was launched at a meeting of the County Mental Health Assn., county officials and newspapermen Wednesday at the Wick Hotel at Lisbon.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin, county commossioner Max Gard and County Auditor Kenneth Bell outlined the needs, plans and financing of a new home, and Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, described tentative arrangements for the proposed structure.

About 25 attended the session at which the bond issue, on the Nov. 3 ballot, was discussed. Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville, president of the mental health group, was in charge.

Gard explained the recent action by the commissioners to seek a bond issue for a new county structure stemmed from an order from a state inspector that the present plumbing system at the home would have to be replaced to meet state standards.

He said the work would cost about $35,000, and it was suggested by Commissioner Frank Wilson of Wellsville that a new home be bought instead of spending money on the outdated structure.

Plans for the campus-like building system — one story groupings to be located somewhere on the present 400-acre home site — were drawn by Beatty.

The architect said the new home would provide quarters for about 150 people, with utilities that could accommodate 250 should the home be enlarged. There would be two persons for each bedroom ,which would have toilet facilities, and there would be a bath and showers for every six rooms.

Auditor Bell said the bond issue would be for 23 years, and with a .43-mill levy, would cost the average county home owner about $1.44 a year.

Both Bell and Mayor Shoub explained the construction of the home would require improved

Miami Students Hear Kennedy

Senator Talks on Asian Struggle

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — The real struggle between India and China is for the economic and political leadership of the East, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) told a Miami University student convocation today.

"It should be obvious that the outcome of this competition will vitally affect the future of all Asia . . . and inevitably the security and standing of our own country," the aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination asserted.

"No struggle in the world deserves more time and attention from this Administration—and the next—than . . . the battle between India and China," Kennedy told the student body.

In the last decade, he asserted, China has moved from a position of marked inferiority and has gone ahead of India economically.

"Within the last year," Kennedy said, "the Chinese have produced their first automobile. Within the next year they may have launched their first earth satellite. Within a few years they may have exploded their first nuclear weapon."

Before moving on to appearances later today in Cincinnati and Dayton, Kennedy asserted: "We want India to win that race with Red China . . . It is our job to prove that we can devote as much energy, intelligence, idealism and sacrifice to the survival and triumph of the open society (of India) as the Russian despots can extort by compulsion in defense of their closed system of tyranny."

Kennedy came to Ohio Tuesday night for a conference with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, but made a hurry-up trip back to Washington for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Bay State senator's first-hand account of that encounter, delivered from his own notes of the meeting, held some 400 Ohio

Herter Readies U.N. Address

Blast Prepared For Red Chinese

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was reported ready to slam into Red China in his first U. N. speech today—a day ahead of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's appearance here.

An informant in a position to know said Herter's half-hour address to the 82-nation General Assembly, while "fairly reasonable in tone," would be "a little rougher" than usual on the Chinese Communists.

Since the 1958 Assembly session, Communist China has suppressed an uprising in Tibet, got into a border dispute with India and been blamed along with the Soviet Union and North Viet Nam for a rebellion in Laos.

The Steering Committee voted Wednesday to shelve for a year the question of seating Red China in the United Nations.

Herter addresses the Assembly as the second speaker in a general policy debate.

Delegate looked to the general debate for hints whether the United States and the Soviet Union were rigid or conciliatory as they entered upon an exchange of visits between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower. In this spirit, they awaited Herter's and Khrushchev's speeches.

The 21-nation committee adopted a Brazilian propoal to group four separate subjects for one debate under the general heading of disarmament. The vote was 11-6 with 2 abstentions.

The four subjects are a report of the Disarmament Commission welcoming Big Four arrangements to renew talks on arms cuts in a 10-nation group in Geneva early next year; limitation of the nuclear club, proposed by Ireland; a halt to nuclear tests, promoted by India; and an appeal against French nuclear tests in the Sahara, made by Morocco.

X-15 Rocket Ship In First Power Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The rocket ship X-15, which later this year may blast a man to the edge of space, made its first powered flight today.

It skimmed in for a 200 m.p.h. plus landing on a dry lake bed after 10 minutes in the air.

With veteran North American Aviation test pilot Scott Crossfield at the controls, it was cut loose from its B52 mother ship 38,000 feet over this desert test center at 8:09 a.m.

Much of the flight could be seen from the ground. Crossfield zoomed to 50,000 feet, made some maneuvers while flying a 100-mile circle, then landed after his fuel was exhausted.

The stubby-winged, 50-foot black X15, using more powerful engines, is expected to rocket more than 100 miles high at faster than 4,000 m.p.h. later this year.

Deming Relates Harsh Economic Facts

Rising Alien Industrial Competition Is Cited

What's going to happen to American industries when the European and Asiatic countries step up their penetration of U.S. markets here and abroad?

Evidence of the effects of the growing specter of foreign industrial competition can already be seen at two points.

"They are the difficulty American manufacturers are facing in holding their present expert markets and the constantly increasing imports in this country," the president of a local industry engaged in world-wide trade said.

Speaking at a recent meeting of the Youngstown District Purchasing Agents Association, W. F. Deming, head of the Deming Co., cited problems facing his firm as well as others here.

U. S. firms are being priced out of the world market, he stated in discussing "The Foreign Bogey-Man."

Quoting from letters sent him by the firm's merchandizing agents overseas this year, the pump concern's president related the harsh economic facts of the effects of foreign competition today.

Deming's prices in Belgian Congo are 25-30 per cent above European prices, he told the purchasing agents. A letter from India said local production was given governmental sanction over imports. Columbia will soon support national plants in the pump business by barring foreign concerns' products, an import agency there reported. Reports from other countries say the same thing.

One reason for the steadily shrinking markets for "made in U.S.A." products lies in foreign group. Japanese industrial wages wage scales, Deming told the average 86 per cent below the pay rate here. Wages in Germany, where the plants and tools are very up-to-date, are 70 per cent under the prevailing hourly-rates

Grand Jury Hearing 10 Cases Today

LISBON — At least 22 witnesses are expected to testify Friday before the Columbiana County convened Tuesday, according to County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

He said the grand jury completed investigations on schedule Wednesday and was to hear 20 witnesses against 10 defendants in 10 cases today.

The panel of 11 men and four women are probing a total of 52 cases, the largest number ever filed for a county grand jury. Prosecutor Brokaw hopes the jury will be able to complete its investigations by Monday afternoon.

Friday's schedule lists the following defendants and charges:

Ralph Heath, 24, New Cumberland RD 2, and Sherman E. Mikeals, 21, East Liverpool, forgery.

Roselee Barber, 19, Wellsville RD, shooting with intent to kill or wound her mother.

Patrick J. O'Shea, 62, North Rochester, Pa., fraudulent check.

Robert L. Dotson and Jacob Junior Fife, both of Salem, sodomy.

Ernest Troy Wilson, 20, Salem RD, auto larceny.

Robert Jennings, Merion Kennedy, and Arthur Clinkscale, all of Youngstown, burglary.

The juniors will also hear two second degree manslaughter cases tomorrow.

Khrushchev Arouses Envy of Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) There's one thing about Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that has aroused at least one senator's envy.

Khrushchev refuses to wear a white tie and tailcoat for any occasion.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), Senate Foreign Relations Committee chairman, cut short a news conference grumbling apologetically that he had to go home and change into formal attire for Wednesday night's Soviet Embassy party in honor of President Eisenhower.

Reminded that Khrushchev himself wouldn't be wearing a soup-and-fish, Fulbright grinned and replied: "I'm thinking seriously, that might be one of his customs that's superior."

Lisbon Woman Named As County Nurse

LISBON — Miss Grace McLaughlin of Lisbon RD 5 a recent graduate of the Aultman Hospital in Canton, will immediately begin her duties as a nurse at the county home.

She was appointed today by the Columbiana County commissioners after she was recommended by two county physicians.

HISTORY TO DECIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — History will decide whether capitalism or communism is best for the people, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday.

What if capitalism wins out?

That's impossible, he said, but added he would have to go along if it did.

Many Laws Effective Soon

Statute Would Allow New Voting Machine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A new law allowing use of ballot-punching voting machines in Ohio elections goes on the books Sept. 28.

But approval of a three-member commission is required before the novel devices invented by Martin Coyle, Hamilton attorney, become legal.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Ohio's chief elections official, will name the commission, which must act within 30 days after the new law takes effect.

Coyle said the machines were about ready for mass production but probably would not get into use until next year.

He described them as about one-third the size of conventional lever-operated voting machines and said they would cost 60 per cent less. Recent purchases of lever-type machines exceeded $1,800 apiece.

Coyle's machine is about a foot square and stands a foot and a half high.

Ballots printed on cards are locked into the machine and voters punch their choices. Punched ballots

Union Leaders Again Uniting

Opposition Spurs Move by Labor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders, normally split a dozen different ways on as many subjects, said today a resurgence of business opposition to union aims is helping to unify organized labor.

This was a theme repeatedly mentioned among the nearly 1,000 delegates gathered for the opening session of the federation's biennial convention.

They said that while they have troubles with each other, the AFL-CIO unions are uniting to support the 65-day steel strike and similar instances of employer opposition to wage increases and union legislative proposals in Congress and state legislatures.

Passage of the new labor control law by Congress, for one thing, has obviously shaken AFL-CIO confidence in the Democratic party and convinced most federation chiefs they should pick and choose more carfully among candidates before bestowing political endorsements and support.

This led to a policy declaration by AFL-CIO leaders Wednesday night that party label are meaningless and that they will administer a planned increase in 1960 campaign activitis accordingly.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, was expected to stress in his convention keynote speech that the lickings organized labor is taking in labor contract negotiations and in federal and state legislatures are helping force unions into a solid labor front.

WHERE SOVIET SAY ROCKET HIT MOON — Russian authorities, in advance of Soviet Union's announcement that it had landed a rocket on the moon, said the rocket would come down about a quarter of the way from the center of the moon's disc to its outer edge at a point near the Sea of Tranquility, the Sea of Serenity and the Sea of Vapors. These seas, features of moon's surface mapped by astronomers years ago, are assumed by scientists to be dry but it is not known whether they are expanses of dust or rock. This composite picture of the moon showing it from first to last quarters, was made by the Lick Observatory near San Jose, Calif., in August of last year.

City Worker Hits Auto With Broom

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—A woman complained a city employe used abusive language after giving her car "a good whack" with a broom.

City Manager Henry Rofles said a street employe admitted "cussing" the woman.

He told Rofles he lost his temper only after the woman:

Drove around a "Do not enter" sign, drove over freshly painted parking area stripes and rammed him from behind, knocking him to the pavement. He said his broom flew into the air and landed on the car.

The matter has been dropped.

Moon Satellite Seen Before End of Year

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — The chief of Army ordnance says he believes the United States has a good chance of putting a satellite into orbit around the moon this year.

Lt. Gen. J. H. Hinrichs said the proposed moonshot, with a goal of orbiting the moon, will be a greater achievement than landing on the moon.

Statement of Miss Tregoff Made Public

POMONA, Calif. (AP)—A lifelong friend says Carole Tregoff asked him to put her in touch with "two rough guys who can take care of somebody."

Miss Tregoff, 22-year-old red-haired divocee, and her lover, Dr. Bernard Finch, 41, are charged with murdering his wife.

The statement about Carole's purported request came from Donald Sanford Williams, 23, a Las Vegas, Nev., college student.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred N. Whichello, who disclosed the statement after Miss Tregoff was released from jail on $25,000 bail, said he believed she and Dr. Finch were trying to hire a killer.

Williams told reporters in Las Vegas: "Carole asked me to find someone to help her. She asked if I knew any gangsters in this town (Las Vegas) or anyone engaged in that activity. She said, 'One of these days why don't you introduce me to one?' "

Williams gave this account:

He later concluded that she "may have wanted these two to get some dirt of some sort on Mrs. Finch."

He introduced Carole to William Keachie, 26, a former fellow student at Nevada Southern University, and William Patrick Cody. Then he delivered a picture of Mrs. Finch to the two men.

Whichello said the pair took money from Dr. Finch and Carole but did not kill Mrs. Finch.

Keachie is in jail in Las Vegas. Police said they found him in a room with two prostitutes last week. Cody, last reported in Minneapolis, is being sought by police.

Trial of Miss Tregoff and Dr. Finch has been set for Nov. 24. Dr. Finch is being held without bail.

Mr. Khrushchev Comes To America

Premier Nikita Khrushchev has arrived on United States soil. Before his arrival, there were some jitters among his hosts and, it can be assumed, on his part, too, for it was a new experience for everybody concerned.

But everything went off very well. And it is hard to avoid the conclusion that the Americans with whom the visitor first came into contact carried the day.

Officially, the Russian chieftain got the full red-carpet, 21-gun treatment. The President of the United States personally met him at the door of his sleek jet airplane, removed his hat during the playing of the Soviet national anthem, and welcomed him with words carefully written in advance but designed to let the Red ruler know he would be given all the consideration due a distinguished guest.

Crowds of people lined the routes of his first day's travels around the capital. That most of them were perhaps only curious to catch a glimpse of one of the most powerful men alive is unimportant. The significance lies in the fact that they displayed courtesy and interest with considerable restraint.

Rules of etiquette do not demand that a host show adoration for his guest. It is enough to give him the full measure of hospitality and respect for his position. There is no need for admiration of all that he stands for or believes in.

This was the reminder President Eisenhower gave to his fellow citizens earlier in a personal explanation of the potential opportunities for peace that led him to invite Mr. Khrushchev to this country.

The President continued to set the pace when the arrival time came. He made clear in his words and his actions that this was no fair, tale fete but a meeting that could, in the long run, spell the difference between survival and annihilation for more than half the peoples of the earth.

There were no boasts and there was no obvious rancor at the visitor's boasts. There was no attempt to color the fact that vast ideological and practical differences separate the two great powers of today's world.

But there was full courtesy and respect.

All in all, the reception appears to have eased the pre-arrival jitters considerably by striking just the note that had been hoped for.

It warants confidence that if the same atmosphere prevails throughout the premier's tour of the U.S., it will be a very successful visit indeed.

Constitution Week Coincidence

The President of the United States was formally wlecoming the premier of Soviet Russia to Washington, but his words could as easily have been spoken in commemoration of Constitution Week.

"The political and social systems of our two countries differ greatly," he said. "In our system the people themselves establish and control the government. . . . It is clear that because our people do want peace and because they are the decisive influence in basic actions of our government, aggression by this nation is an impossibility."

Although it is coincidence, there could hardly be a more opportune time for the Russian leader's visit to America than during the period we set aside each year to pay special tribute to the political instrument that has made our nation great.

Mr. Khrushchev and his associates ae fond of referring to those countries which have fallen under their domination as "people's democracies." The term is derived from another favorite Marxist slogan, "the dictatorship of the proletariat."

To the Communist dialectician these euphemisms may sound reasonable, but anybody who has his thinking cap on straight can discern the differene between a democracy that is created by the people it serves and a so-called democracy that is handed down to the people already packaged according to the specifications of the few who plan to run it.

And just about any school child could see that real democracy cannot be discussed in terms of dictatorships — of the proletariat or anything else. In a democracy, nobody does any permanent dictating. Even the minority of the moment has a voice in what goes on.

The Soviet leader's presence in the United States during Constitution Week should serve to remind all Americans of these truths. The Constitution that was signed by its drafters 172 years ago today remains a powerful document because the people it serves have constantly reminded themselves of the ideals it represents.

Ideals are practical only when they remain constantly in sight.

Nature Abhors a Bottleneck

The strongest incentive to look for new oil fields has come in recent times from an unintentional source—Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic and strong man of Egypt.

The instant he began to use the Suez Canal as a bargaining lever, the value of that maritime bottleneck began to dwindle. Oil producers and their customers started to look for ways to make themselves independent of the bottleneck.

A new oil field has been developed in Libya. A French pipeline across the Sahara to the Mediterranean port of Bougie has been finished. A second pipeline through Tunisia will make France independent of the Suez—and perhaps Nasser will remember that France originally owned the Suez canal outright.

There is a moral in what has happened to Nasser.

No one who thinks he has discovered a way to bend the world to his will can afford to forget that every action is followed by a reaction: every weapon by a counter-weapon; every threat by a counter-threat. This is the way the affairs of mankind are kept in balance.

Whether it is a political strong man who dreams of bringing his opponents to heel, or a monopoly of business or labor that threatens to dictate terms, there invariably is an opposing force brought into play.

This always seems to come as a surprise and shock to the would-be dictators. Their first impulse is to charge that they are being unfairly set upon by ruthless enemies who seek to destroy them.

They never admit that it was their own idea to destroy; that they created their "enemies" by their own ruthlessness.

The oil industry cannot afford to be at Nasser's mercy for the transportation of oil produced in the Middle East. Industry cannot afford to be at the mercy of the unionists who want to dictate to it. The nation cannot afford to be at the mercy of either industrialists or its unionists. Next to a vacuum, nature abhors a bottleneck most.

KRUSHCHEV'S VISIT PLAY BY PLAY

First Day: Arrived direct from launching pad in photo finish with moon rocket. Escorted to White Houe with service bands trying to act sincere while playing 'Shine on Harvest Moon," "That's How I Need You," and "If I'd Known You Were Coming I'd Have Baked a Capsule."

Ike admitted that any man who could make a hole-in-one on the moon was a wonder. Ike asked, "What club did you use?" Krushchev insisted it was a niblick.

Second Day: Press Club TV show with Nikita complaining he understood program was to be "Whom Do You Trust?"

Third Day: Wagner luncheon at Waldorf with mayor briefed by Georgie Jessel on how to beat Khrush's jokes.

Visit to Averell Harriman home, showing premier's determination to rub elbows with the poor.

Economic Club Dinner, with puzzled economists regitering confusion in black ties.

Khrushchev is annoyed when told one of his jokes was previously used at the Plaza. He gets mixed up on his speech agenda, proposes a toast to Roswell Garst and thank club for inviting him to inspect corn crop.

Fourth Day: To great industrial center of Hyde Park to catch Eleanor Roosevelt on one of the few days she is home. Back to New York for speech at U.N. He is still a little confused and calls for standing salute to Ezra Benson's Beltsville all-white-meat turkey. Gov. Rockefeller visits him at Waldorf at 3 p.m.

Score at this point: Common people 0; Millionaires, Industrialists and Polo Players 36.

Fifth Day: To Los Angeles, Frisco and Hollywood for study of underprivileged movie stars, starving Americans, destitute performers in "Can Can" and underprivileged Giants and Dodgers. Visits Disneyland and as substitute for Hoover Dam. Threatens trouble if Aristotle Onassis and Maria Callas continue to rival him in headlines.

Sixth Day: Visit to Iowa corn farm (suspenders and black tie). Asks why corntalks are not grown upside down. Says Soviets will producer bigger corncobs and may even get butter supply up to the point where it can be spread on cob. Declares corn borer can be killed by veto.

Seventh Day: Pittsburgh for first real display of interest in workers. (Take it from there.)

Let Me Tell You About This One

A Nose Under the Tent

By RAYMOND MOLEY

As an outcome of the alarm over our educational system because of the Soviet sputnik, Congress passed the National Defense Education Act.

It has not been in operation for a year. The United States Office of Education is in charge of its operation and a preliminary report has been issued covering the expenditures.

Im considering the operation of the act it should be remembered that the purpose was to strengthen the teaching of science, mathematics and some modern languages, fundamental subjects which modern education had grossly neglected in the public schools, elementary, secondary and collegiate. The authorization is for four years.

The expenditures for the first year run somewhre between 50 million and 75 million dollars. The following are the major purposes for which this was expended:

STUDENT LOANS in nearly 1,200 institutions of higher learning money to 49 states for strengthening the teaching of science, mathematics and modern languages, most of this for equipment: some loans for the same purpose to private colleges: 1,000 fellowships in 123 graduate schools; money to states for strengthening counseling and guidance in schools; a small sum for teaching certain foreign languages which are not usually found in higher institutions; also research projects for methods of teaching foreign languages; a few other minor items.

The act was passed with the votes of many members of both houses of Congress who are firmly against federal aid to education generally and who fear the danger of federal control of education.

Those members were also vividly aware of the grave deficiencies in the teaching of the traditional subjects in the public schools now.

Others, however, favored this act as a mere means of getting the federal government into the field of public education as a first step toward federal aid generally, and inevitable, federal control.

A plain warning of this intent was expressed by Rep. Frank Thompson, Jr., of New Jersey, a dedicated advocate of federal aid. He said in the hearings on the act this year:

"I viewed this legislation, as in a sense, a gimmick. We had to sell it to a normally hostile Congress and I think a magnificent job was done in selling it. Now that the nose is in the tent, I think that we could perhaps straighten out some of the imbalances which are in it."

What he regards as "inbalances" are shown by a bill which he introduced in the House which was designed to take the emphasis from science, mathematics and foreign languages.

Opponents are disturbed by the U.S. Commissioner of Education's selection fo Dr. jjohn D. Ludington to administer the Act.

THE WRITINGS of this "progressive" educator certainly show no regard for the major purposes of the act.

His favorite theme is "life adjustment," which, in the vernacular of the "progressive" educators, means adjusting the school and life itself to the student rather than adjusting the child to the necessities of life.

Consider this choice quotation from Ludington:

"When secondary education concerned itself with the mental development of the few, it was believed that the purpose of learning was to exercise and toughen the mind. As educational psychology developed, it was found that there was little transfer from one subject to another, that the memorization of information did not necessarily enable the learner to think more clearly and that the problems in geometry did not contribute much to the solving of the problems of daily shopping."

There are some who still believe that education should be designed "to exercise and toughen the mind."

There are mothers, too who went to school before "progressive" education, who are well prepared to teach their own children how to shop. And geometry is one of the things Congress wanted Ludington to support.

Under this sort of direction a large part of the camel may be in the tent before four years pass.

Magazine's Ironic Prediction

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) "Eployment holds up well. Corporation cash boxes are fuller, and dividends larger. Money is still being made in the stock market and is turning over fast in trade. The European political and financial thunderstorms have passed over and the international economic atmosphere is clearing."

Right out of today's financial press? No, it's the business outlook summed up in the first issue of the magazine Business Week, Sept. 7, 1929.

The magazine started life six weeks before the stock market crashed — and with 10 dreary years of depression ahead.

But 30 years ago this month the business world was talking about much the same favorable signs—and problems—as today.

Then as now there were surveys. The first issue claimed it polled 5,600 "picked top executives in all lines of trade and industry" and you wouldn't have to change much in what it called their 'feel of the business pulse" to print their report today:

General business in September, October and November will be about 6 per cent better than at the close of August.

Employment and purchasing power are holding at a high level.

The general public is speculating again. In August (1929) stock market gambling increased in all parts of the country.

Continued high money rates — particularly for mortgage money and rural credit—are retarding business.

Excessive instalment buying — especially of luxuries and automobiles—and increasingly keen competition in the retail field because of chain store development are things to worry about.

Thus spoke the business leaders 30 years ago—just about as they do today.

The magazine's first issue predicts "Congress is going to stick its official nose into the Federal Reserve Board's business are long." Sound like recent rumblings on Capitol Hill about tight money?

As the fall of 1929 began, the magazine reported a "tenseness in Wall Street. Its presence is undeniable. There is a general feeling that something is going to happen during the present season." It sure did, six weeks later.

The magazine reported that 614 stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange were lower in August 1929 than in January, and only 388 had advanced, and stock prices often were "out of sight of earnings."

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon had been paying as high as 5⅛ per cent for short-term money needed by the U.S. Treasury, but in September managed to cut it to 4⅞ per cent because banks were bidding for them in case of emergency. Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson's latest six-month issue sold at 4.79 per cent. And his short-term securities seem to be about the only ones he can sell.

But no one seemed to worry much 30 years ago. Business was reported quieter in August than earlier in the year 'but still far more lively than a year ago".

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

"By the time we have our second baby, maybe I can afford to give you a GOOD cigar, Mr. Whitlow!"

Dignified but Distant

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Khrushchev Given Cool U.S. Welcome

The moon is far away. So seemed the hearts of the people as they watched Soviet Premier Khrushchev when his car moved slowly through the streets of the national capital. It was a dignified reception — as solemn as a funeral procession.

David Lawrence

One couldn't help feeling sad and sorry and wondering why such visit wasn't postponed until conditions were ripe for it.

Khrushchev himself appeared friendly and somewhat bewildered. He knew the crowds were restrained. He must have felt the silence of the 200,000 who lined the thoroughfares.

There were some spectators, of course, who look upon the Soviet leader as a criminal and there were others no doubt who know little of his background but regard him as a symbol of Communism — indeed, as a hostile symbol.

It is difficult to show friendliness to a potential enemy. There has been nothing in recent months to indicate that the Soviet ruler will do anything constructive to advance the cause of peace — he was treated, therefore, with natural suspicion and distrust.

The entrance of Nikita Khrushchev to Washington, with all the fanfare and ceremony that is officially bestowed on a head of state made an impressive picture.

KINGS AND QUEENS and foreign dignitaries have passed along the streets of Washington before and the people here are not as demonstrative as in other cities.

They are used to officialdom in Washington. But the people here do cheer.

They do express themselves.

But this time there was a strange mood of quiet acquiescence — a staring at the headline maker whose threats and boasts have been given front-page play in the press in recent years. Even President Eisenhower seemed grave and perhaps worried.

Maybe the Soviet Premier will be unable even to interpret the curious reception he got. It was not artificially contrived. It was the spontaneous expression of people who feared that the man they were watching might someday push a button and start a world war.

Normally, when a head of state comes to Washington, the people here feel that, in honoring him or her, the tribute is also for the people of the foreign country who have sent their representative on a mission of friendship and good will.

Many Washington people must have wished there were on this occasion some way to show the friendship felt to America for the people of the Soviet Union.

Mr. Khrushchev, or course, in his opening address at the airport, spoke about the friendship and goodwill he brought and managed to introduce a gibe about the Soviet achievement in hitting the moon.

Unfortunately for him, the same words are not as meaningful as when they come from a foreign visitor who is trusted and whose government has repeatedly manifested its friendship for the American people.

There have been times in the last 26 years since the United States extended formal recognition to the Soviet government when there might have been applause and outbursts of enthusiasm if the head of that government had visited Washington.

SUCH A VISIT, for instance, during World War II might have been the occasion for cheers for an ally —for the people of Soviet Russia who were making supreme sacrifices for our common cause.

But since 1945 the Soviets have steadily forfeited the repect of the American people. Even Mr. Khrushchev, in public speeches in 1956, had to denounce what happened during the Stalin regime, though everybody knows he himself played an influential part in some of the same acts of the Stalin government.

To attempt to present to the American people today the head of a government which for the last 14 years has broken pledges, dishonored its written agreements and carried on acts of aggession and brutality in many countries of the world, is to ask that crime be ignored and applause be given to the man who is responsible for the continuance of the same kind of policies and pograms in the Soviet Union today.

Nikita Khrushchev's mind dwells in a world of his own making — as far away from American ideals and the spirit of freedom as the distance to the moon. Only a miracle could transform him into a different being.

There are those who hope for such a miracle. The next 11 days could convey to the Soviet Premier some idea of what was really back of the coolness in the courteous reception he received on Tuesday.

If he begins to ponder what makes whole peoples distrustful, he will at least have made a start toward that better undertanding which he claims to seek in the relations between the government of the Soviet Union and the American people.

Musical Mathematics

By IAN MENZIES

BOSTON

Ercolini Ferretti believes that some day man may do the equivalent of composing and performing a symphony concert by himself.

A creative person has an idea and the objective is to communicate this idea, according to the 40-year-old musician turned engineer at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He believes the present range for communicating musical ideas is exhausted.

So he has turned to electronics.

All musical sounds start with a basically mechanical act — plucking a violin string, beating a drum, blowing a horn. By using electrical waves, which can't be converted into acoustical energy. Ferretti says it is possible to generate any sound.

By using electrical waves, one man literally could put his creative thoughts into symphonic music immediately. This is the key to making the abstract music Ferretti sees as a jet-age art.

FOR SEVERAL YEARS Ferretti mulled over these thoughts as he rattled over roads on one night stands as a commercial musician.

"I thought it would be quite easy to take my ideas to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology," he said, "and have someone build the electronic equipment while I supervised the musical side.

"I found out how wrong I was."

M.I.T people were sympathetic but Ferretti, a former professional composer, was still out on cloud eight and if he wanted something done he found out he would have to do it himself. He did. As a special student he took 2½ years of electrical engineering and mathematics.

As Ferretti learned the new ends of his idea, M.I.T. people became interested and the graduate at the New England Conservatory of Music became a staff member in the research laboratory of electronics.

Ferretti is grateful that the institute would be prepared to accept a new idea and give him backing. He has built all his own equipment and has already produced one experiemental record to show what can be done. It sounds like a real cool piano. It catches the interest of everyone who hears it, though Ferretti himself thinks it's terrible.

FERRETTI WORKS in mathematical equations related to electrical wave forms. He uses equations rather than a score. There is a family of equations which corresponds to electrical wave forms which give musical sounds as we know them.

He organizes these sounds as a composer would notes and puts the equations on values of these sounds on a wave form generator. The wave forms, recorded on audio tape, can be played in the usual way.

Until now, and to prove his ideas, he had to work mechanically. Now he is working on incorporating computers to take over the mechanical work of applying the sound values to the wave form generator and thus have much wider scope.

The advantages, according to Ferretti, are that one person can improvise without being dependent on others to catch his exact feeling. And this pioneering work may have interesting sidelights. For instance, if he can produce any sound through the use of electrical waves, it would not be impossible to simulate the speaking voice. This has been done in simple words but they have an artificial ring.

Ferretti has satisfied himself that his ideas can work. And machines, unlike divas and conductors, do not have temperaments.

Atlas Firing Called Success By Air Force

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An Atlas intercontinental range missile, newest and deadliest addition to the U.S. defense arsenal, thundered over the Atlantic Wednesday night on a reportedly successful 5,500-mile test flight.

There was no official announcement on the result, but sources close to the project said the 85-foot missile functioned perfectly.

A week ago, an Atlas flew successfully from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., and the Defense Department declared the big missile operational.

Launching pads at Vandenberg now hold a few war-ready Atlases capable of hitting Soviet targets 25 minutes after launch, according to informed sources. The rocket has a range of 6,325 miles and hits a peak speed of 15,000 miles an hour.

Wednesday night's firing was the first in a new series directed at improving the accuracy of the Atlas.

Governor Delays Decision

DiSalle Remains Firm on Stand In Nomination Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is sticking to his waiting game even though seven county Democratic chairmen have endorsed him as Ohio's favorite son for the party's 1960 presidential nomination.

"I appreciate their expression," he said Wednesday, "but this doesn't change my position as far as delaying a decision until late this year or early next year."

The seven chairmen from Muskingum, Perry, Washington, Monroe, Guernsey, Morgan and Noble counties make up Ohio's 15th Congressional District.

Mell G. Underwood Jr., head of the district group and the Perry County Democrats, announced the group's endorsement Wednesday.

"We recognize the importance of a solid delegation behind Gov. DiSalle," Underwood said. 'Our unanimous endorsement of Gov. DiSalle is our answer to the Cleveland group which appears to be trying to divide our party."

He referred to the Cuyahoga County Democratic Committee which has endorsed Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) as Ohio's favorite son. The senator, currently touring Ohio, has not announced himself an active candidate for the presidential nomination.

DiSalle has also been endorsed as favorite son by the Hardin County Democratic executive com- announced Tuesday night.

Action of the 15th District county chairmen is the first response to Democratic State Chairman William Coleman's request for the county chiefs to support DiSalle. The governor earlier indicated no enthusiasm to support the Coleman campaign.

Underwood said his group will back Coleman in his efforts to send a solid 66-man delegation to the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles next July.

Underwood, of New Lexington, is son of Federal District Judge Mell G. Underwood Sr. of Columbus.

Financial Battle Looms As Invitation to Disaster

By RALMOND MOLEY

DALLAS, Texas

The "new" Eisenhower who has resolutely taken matters into his own hands was not created by the absence of Sherman Adams or his approach to the end of his terms as President.

He has within these past six months been moving under the threat of a real financial disaster to the country. And no one is more responsible for bringing him to this realization, after six years of pretty expensive policies, than his Texas secretary of the treasury, Robert Anderson.

His vetoes of spending bills are secondary to his battle with Congress to take the ceiling from the interest rate on government bonds. For this is the very heart of a financial storm that is bearing down upon us by the day.

No one has so clearly made this plain to him and to Congress as has the treasury secretary, who is a man who knows what he is about and who has the capacity to explain financial affairs in terms that everyone can understand.

IN JUNE the President sent an urgent message to Congress saying that the credit of the government required that the legal ceiling on the interest rates of the 4½ per cent long -term marketable bonds and the 3.26 per cent limit on savings bonds should be removed, with discretion in the administration to fix these according to the conditions prevailing in the market for money.

Two days later Secretary Anderson presented to the House Ways and Means Committe one of the finest and most reasonably clear statements on finacial policy that has appeared in recent years.

For two critical months Congress, busy with politics and little raids on the Treasury ignored this advice. Things were getting worse, and on Aug. 12 the House Ways and Means Committee tentatively approved the principles presented in bills by Rep. Simpson (R-Pa) and Harrison (D-Va.).

These bills would have met the President's recommendations.

A week later the Committee changed its mind and decided to do nothing. On that same day, the secretary sharply warned the committee of its dangerous delay, saying:

"A nation cannot afford to sit idly by at a time of rising levels of business activity and allow a situation to continue in which both the fact and the fear of inflation can be generated. We have tried to make clear that under present restrictions the government in the management of the debt can actively contribute to the inflationary pressures by being confined to short-term financing, which the shorter it gets is more like

He might have said "printing money," for that is what it amounts to.

THE PRESIDENT followed with a more urgent message, saying that "no issue of greater importance has come before this session of Congress." He again urged action on his earlier recommendation.

The committee labored for a few days and brought forth a mouse of a bill which a minority of the members condemned in a very strong report.

It removed the ceiling on the savings bonds, which are only one seventh of the national debt but did nothing about other long-term securities.

In the Senate the size of the mouse was reduced still more.

The critical days ahead may well compel the President to call Congress into special session. Perhaps such a sepctacular move will be the only means of bringing public attention to the most serious problem before us all.

Togetherness Scarce In Capital

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Togetherness in Washington is a political oddity. This was an odd year, although it wasn't supposed to be. Next year should be more normal. It's an election year.

The Democratic-run Congress, which ended its 1959 chores this week, got along so well with President Eisenhower it already has been accused of running obediently every time he whistled.

But even controversy between Northern and Southern Democrats was kept pretty much to a minimum. There are some pretty good reasons for the strange quietness which enveloped the Capitol all year:

The Democratic leadership in Congress let Eisenhower call the tunes and it postponed until 1960 the most inflammatory issues, like new civil rights legislation, federal aid to education, and others.

Because the Democrats got overwhelming control of this Congress in the 1958 elections, they had been expected to impose their thinking on Eisenhower who up till then had shown a very unaggressive leadership.

He fooled them. Right from the start he put them on the self-conscious defensive by accusing them of wanting to spend too much money at a time when the country was recovering from the 1958 recession. He said big spending wasn't needed.

To show that he meant what he said, he vetoed one bill after another and made all his vetoes stick except one at the end simply because enough Southern Democrats deserted their party's ranks to join Republicans in upholding the President.

If the two Democratic leaders —Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas— had wanted to assert more leadership of their own and make a fight of it, they could have given Eisenhower a rougher time. They chose to play along.

The result was a lot of legislation but it was of a basic kind, and not very controversial.

Still, quiet as it was, this session of Congress once again demonstrated one of the myths in American politics—the idea that there are really only two political parties: Democrats and Republicans.

In the first place, despite their talk of differences between them, Democrats and Republicans see so much alike on major issues, differing mostly on details, that a foreigner would have a hard time distinguishing between them.

In the second place, there are really three political parties — Democrats, Republicans, and Southern Democrats — any time the Southerners want it to be that way.

Any time they disagree with the thinking of ahe Northern and Western Democrats, they can and do split off as a large bloc to line up with the opposition Republicans.

They showed their power in teaming up with House Republicans to pass a tougher labor control bill than the rest of the Democrats had in mind but which Eisenhower wanted.

They showed it repeatedly by splitting off—at least enough of them to be effective—to join the Republicans in upholding Eisenhower's vetoes, with one exception.

But next year Congress—in addition to civil rights and federal aid to education—faces legislation on farming, minimum wages, broadening of Social Security, aid for depressed areas, and possibly income tax changes.

Any one of those problems creates heat. If the Democratic leadership tries to pass civil rights legislation with real teeth in it, the Southerners will fight.

While the Democrats will have to woo the vote of minorities—and a strong civil rights bill is attractive to Northern Negro voters—the leaders have to think of something else: how not to split their party in an election year.

A rough and tumble on civil rights aloneif it left deep scars —could hurt the Democrats as a party in the presidential election.

So this year's togetherness, between the Democrats and the White House, was more like a reprieve before a brawl than it was a lasting companionship.

California Student Chokes to Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A University of Southern California student choked to death on a piece of raw meat during a predawn fraternity hazing today, police reported.

Dr. Melvin Goldy, summoned to the Kappa Sigma fraternity house, said he had to extract a thick piece of liver from the gullet of Richard Swanson, 21. Swanson was pronounced dead on arrival at Central Receiving Hospital.

Dr. Goldy said the meat was nearly 4 inches long and nearly an inch thick.

Police said the youth was being initiated along with 10 others.

Ike Is Cheered by Prominent Americans

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty-four prominent Americans have cheered on President Eisenhower in his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

In an open letter to the American people, the group said the meeting should be considered as occurring "in an atmosphere of constructive hope."

Those signing the letter included Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore); Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University; publisher John Cowles; Norman Thomas; Dr. Martin Luther King; and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

CALDWELL DECIDED

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — A political decision has been made by Dist. Atty. Bill Caldwell. He told a group of Colorado legislators: "I wouldn't run for this job again for all the apples in China."

Issue May Yet Get on Ballot

Ohio Files Appeal On Metro Amendment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The attorney general's office says an appeal will be filed today to remove the permanent injunction which keeps the metropolitan federation amendment off the November ballot.

Common Pleas Judge Robert Draper, who made the injunction permanent Wednesday, had originally granted a temporary one prior to a court hearing.

The amendment in question provides that in a county having a city of 50,000 or more population, local governments may combine for such duties as police and fire protection.

This year's Legislature decided to put the issue before voters in the form of an amendment to the state constitution. Voters turned down a similar amendment in the last election.

Opposition to the amendment came in a suit by Paul Wichterman, clerk of the Franklin County township trustees, acting as a taxpayer. He maintained the amendment was not included in the House-Senate journals until Aug. 28. This was two weeks after the Legislature adjourned, and, Wichterman said, is contrary to the Ohio constitution. He said the action must be taken before adjournment.

Mrs. Kathleen Haase, elections counsel for Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, had testified the ballots were printed on the authority of the joint Senate-House resolution filed Aug. 3 with Brown She also testified that the official journals of the Senate and House were filed Aug. 28 after the General Assembly adjourned.

At last Saturday's hearing, McElroy and his assistants argued there was no violation of the constitution. McElroy says the issues must be settled before Sept 28 in order to meet a five weeks prelection publication of the amendment in all Ohio counties.

Woman Hospitalized Following Accident

Mrs. Norma F. Jurina, 35, of 790 W. State St. is still under observation today at Central Clinic following a car-truck accident Tuesday at 5:33 p.m. which injured three others.

Treated at the Clinic were Mrs. John Peach of 261½ W. 2nd St., Mrs. Alfred Schwechlik of 850 W. State St. and five-year-old Michael Jurina, son of Mrs. Jurina, driver of the auto. All suffered contusions and abrasions.

The accident occurred on W. State St. at Elm Ave. when the auto slowed down for a left turn and a pickup truck driven by Francis W. Meyer, 29, of Wooster struck it from behind, police said. He was arrested for reckless operation.

Two other drivers involved in separate accidents Tuesday and Wednesday were arrested by police for reckless operation. They were Joan C. Hendron, 21, of 1765 Southeast Blvd. and Larry Darner, 18, of 578 W. Pershing St.

Darner was cited after his auto struck the rear of a tractor-trailer driven by John N. Root, 40, of West Salem at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday on W. State St. at Sharp Ave.

The girl was cited after she pulled out of Jefferson Ave. into the path of an auto driven by Margaret Hinckley, 38, of 1993 Southeast Blvd. The mishap at 8 a.m. Wednesday on Southeast Blvd. happened, police said, when the girl failed to see the approaching auto.

maintenance and operations so that the residents would obtain better care. Consequently, tentative plans call for a half-mill levy to be sought later for home maintenance.

Thus the total cost of providing topflight care for the county's elderly residents would be about $2.44 annually for the average tax payer.

Judge Tobin cited the growing problem throughout America of caring for older people — due to the increased life span and smaller family units.

He said rest homes do not provide a full solution to the problem.

County homes, he stated, have tended to become less of a catchall for those unable to care for themselves and more for older persons, such as pensioners.

"We need at our county home to give these people an incentive to live; they have no daily purpose to their lives. This is no criticism of the staff or county officials — they have done remarkably well with what they have."

Calling the structure a "tinderbox," Judge Tobin said there are 11 people kept on the third floor—locked in at night because of their senile condition — who would be burned to death in event of a fire.

The two main buildings at the home are over 90 years old, and the hospital is over 25.

"This home is not a place for neer-do-wells," Judge Tobin said, "some of our fine old citizens live there."

He said the main object is to get the public informed and to get the bond issue passed at the polls. "We should all visit the home and ask ourselves if we would want our loved ones to stay there."

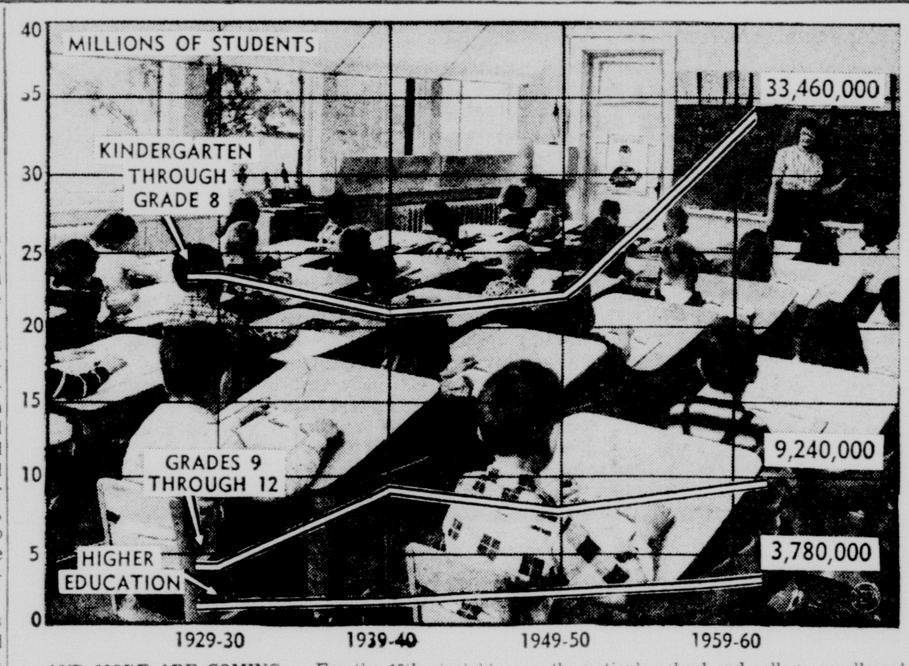

In an open discussion afterwards, county officials said it is expected there will be a number of changes made in the plans to meet needs discovered in closer studies.

Bell said it may be that federal or state aid could be obtained. Mrs. Marilyn Solak, county secondary school supervisor, said she was "appalled" at the home facilities when she visited there recently with the mental health group.

Gard declared the death of any resident of the home in a fire would be a blot upon the county. "We should not have to wait for a catastrophe before we start to build."

Judge Tobin said the mental health group is sponsoring the campaign because the commissioners, as public officials, are not permitted to actively promote the issue.

"I have faith in the people of this county that when they are given the facts, they will support this issue," he concluded.

AND MORE ARE COMING — For the 15th straight year, the nation's school and college enrollment is setting records. An all-time high of 46,480,000 students—one out of every four Americans—will attend halls of learning in the 1959-60 school year (see Newschart above). This is an increase of nearly two million over 1958-59. The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates 1,368,000 teachers will be available, 195,000 less than needed. Last year the deficiency was 182,000.

Kennedy

bankers spellbound for more than 20 minutes Wednesday night. It was Kennedy's first public appearance in Ohio on the current tour which is expected to influence his decision on entering the race for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

The Kennedy account produced nothing that news accounts of the closed-session conference had not already carried, but he had these personal observations of the Soviet leader:

He senses in Khrushchev "a sort of inferiority complex, a concern for 'face.'"

Khrushchev appears to be "extremely vital and vigorous, tireless and with a sense of humor—an interesting figure to emerge at the top of the Soviet heap—an individual who appears capable of serving for a long time."

"Unfortunately, the Soviet leader is chained to the Leninist and Stalinist concept. . . . He is somewhat misleading in personality—a formidable man."

And, for a general size-up:

"He is giving us the true side of a man devoted to our ultimate defeat, by peaceful means, he hopes, but he is still our enemy."

Thor-Able

would provide aerial and maritime navigators with a reliable, all-weather means of fixing their position and plotting their course.

The Advanced Research and Projects Administration is directing the Transit project. ARPA said the system, if it works, will be more accurate than the best now available.

The satellite was aimed at a nearly circular orbit 400 miles above the earth. If successful, it will be the first U.S. satellite visible to the naked eye.

Another Thor-Able rocket placed Explorer VI—the paddlewheel satellite—into orbit last month.

ARPA emphasized that Transit I itself would not be used as a navigational aid. It is merely a test of equipment and theories that may be put to use in future satellites. Some ships and planes will be used to evaluate Transit I, however.

The satellite was to be tracked by four ground stations in the United States, one in Canada and one in England.

Two radio transmitters in the satellite each send on two frequencies at one-minute intervals.

The signals change frequency as they approach and pass over a ground station because of a phenomenon known as the Doppler Shift. This shift is the key to the navigational system and is the main thing to be studied by Transit I.

By measuring the extent of the Doppler Shift, a ground station may be able to predict the orbital position of a satellite for several days ahead. With the location of the satellite known, a navigator could receive a signal from it at any time and accurately mark the position of a ship or plane in any weather.

A simple example of the Doppler Shift is the changing tone of a train whistle as it approaches a listener. More vibrations reach the ear per second as the locomotive comes closer. Radio emissions work much the same way.

If Transit I proves the feasibility of the system, ARPA plans to orbit five operational navigational satellites in the next three years.

If all goes right, Transit I is expected to remain in its near circular orbit for several years. Solar batteies will keep the radio transmitters alive throughout the life of the satellite.

Disarmament

members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. His assessment: it was a "very good and useful talk," of the sort which should be multiplied in the interests of exploring each "opportunity for peace."

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas called the senators' session with Khrushchev a "very successful one" which gave the senators an opportunity to gauge the ability, performance and capability of the Communist leader.

Senator Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois called Khrushchev a "hard-hitting fellow" who "knows what answers he should give from his point of view."

Khrushchev spent 95 minutes with the senators in a question-and-answer session. The senators indicated they failed to get the firm answers they sought. But Sen. Dirksen quoted the Soviet leader as saying Moscow is "prepared to go so far" in compromising the disarmament deadlock and other cold war issues, hinting at some sort of Soviet concession to Western demands.

For Khrushchev, the final event in the second of two taxing days in the United States was a Russian-style dinner served to President and Mrs. Eisenhower, the Soviet leader's guests at a Soviet Embassy function returning Tuesday night's White House dinner to the Premier and his wife. Present were 33 invited Americans and 23 Russians.

Industry

here. American industrial workers average about $2.50 per hour plus fringe benefits, he said.

While the loss of our overseas markets would cost the company seven or eight per cent of its business and throw approximately 56 employes out of work, the picture is not all black, Deming said.

"Competition is good for American industries," he declared.

The Deming Co. president suggested the answer to foreign competition is in the "fuller use of our brain power, more expenditures for research, development of new and improved products and plant and equipment modernization."

"We can help by fighting inflation also," he said, explaining that foreign prices are rising because of inflation in those countries. "We will have to hold our inflationary tendencies down while theirs climb higher.

"Although American industrial productivity rose last year, Europe's productivity increased even more," the Salem industrial executive said.

He said he believes the free enterprise system here can overcome the increased importation of foreign goods without government support through a high tariff.

Defense Opens Case In Trial Of John Friend

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—With only one count left to answer, the defense opens its case today in the trial of former Clermont County Treasurer John P. Friend Jr., on a charge of embezzlement.

Special Judge Ferd Bader Wednesday dismissed 15 of the 16 counts of the indictment against Friend, accused of embezzling $52,217 of county funds from Aug. 22, 1958 to Jan. 31, 1959.

The courts dismissed covered specific amounts from 15 taxing units. The count remaining covers the overall charge of embezzlement.

Judge Bader held he did not see how the jury could come to any conclusion as to how much of the shortage came from specific taxing districts. He declared the state apparently had proved only a shortage of $1,648.

New Law

lots then are counted in tabulating machines.

A magnifying glass and lights in the machine make voting easy, Coyle explained. He said all possible safeguards have been incoporated into the devices and that provision has been made for write-in voting.

A number of other laws enacted by the last Legislature become effective in the next few days.

One of them, effective Friday, allows health directors, in addition to health boards, to declare a dog quarantine against rabies and empowers officials to require vaccination of pets in such emergencies.

Two other laws effective Friday apply to hospitals. One eliminates the Dec. 31, 1960, expiration date in statutes allowing county commissioners to construct or lease hospital facilites for lease to charitable organizations.

The other lets municipalities lease to a non-sectarian charitable corporation any general hospital in which a joint township hospital district board or county commissioners participate.

Taking effect next Monday is a law allowing voluntary admissions to a state school, diagnostic center or similar institution. The statute also permits superintendents to ask probate court for commitment of a voluntary mental patient who needs treatment but intends to leave.

Effective Sept. 28 is another law authorizing Miami University to sell lands it owns in Oxford to those who now lease the property. The statute contains safeguards against losses to the estate-controlled university on such transactions.

Columbus Day will become a legal holiday in Ohio after another new law goes on the books Sept. 29. The new holiday will be observed on Monday when Oct. 12 falls on a Sunday.

Two other new laws become effective Sept. 29. One requires the Wildlife Council to make rules and regulations for the preservation and protection of state-owned lands, waters and property.

The other increases from $100,000 to $200,000 a year the sum the highway director may spend to build, improve or relocate roads leading to or within conservancy districts and township or metropolitan park districts.

Oil Painting To Be Allowed Mrs. Klumpp

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Oil painting will soon be added to the activities permitted Edythe Klumpp, who waits in Marysville Women's Reformatory under sentence to die Dec. 15.

After visiting the institution this week, state corrections chief M. C. Koblentz said Mrs. Klumpp is a "quiet, well-behaved prisoner who presents no special problems."

She spends much of the time reading or working puzzles, he said.

Mrs. Klumpp, 41, twice divorced and the mother of four, was convicted of first-degree murder July 2 in the shooting of Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, wife of her lover. It occurred last Oct. 30 in Cincinnati.

If the execution i carried out, Mrs. Klumpp will be the fourth woman to die in the electric chair in Ohio. Koblentz said she has a private cell and is under maximum security.

Members of her family, accompanied by a Cincinnati clergyman, have visited twice, Koblentz added.

ROADS 'NOT GOOD'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's highway director says the state's roads are not in good shape. Everett S. Preston, speaking to the Ohio Petroleum Marketeers Assn. here Wednesday, said that a survey of 15,952 miles of state roads so far has shown more than 6,208 miles have to be branded intolerable. "Most of the rest are far from perfect," he added.

109 Families Receive Surplus Food Here

A total of 109 families representing 276 people received surplus food Wednesday at City Hall, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director and head of the county surplus food program.

There were 186 families certified, representing 395 people, he said. The distribution of food is being held this morning at the city building in Wellsville with a morning and afternoon session scheduled Friday at the Central Fire Station in East Liverpool.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The United States' newest intercontinental ballistic missile—the Minuteman—has undergone its first flight test.

Tethered by 2,000 feet of nylon cable, the Minuteman was fired Tuesday. It rose only a few hundred feet in the air. The second and third stages of the rocket were dummies.

The Minuteman, powered by solid fuel, is expected to have a range of more than 5,500 nautical miles. It will be launched from undergound silos, rail cars, trucks and ships.

Is Leading Character Miscast?

Russian Road Show Moves to New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Khrushchev road show goes to New York today.

Whether the critics in the big town like it remains to be seen, but many of us who caught the Washington opening feel that despite some spectacular scenes the show needs a little work.

Few denied that the leading character is arresting but some Washington reviewers wondered whether the actor playing the lead—that of a visiting statesman seeking peace—may have been miscast.

There also was some complaint that the script was occasionally vague. What about Hungary, for example? The plot, it was felt, was not entirely clear or the characters plainly motivated. Do they really want peace or propaganda?

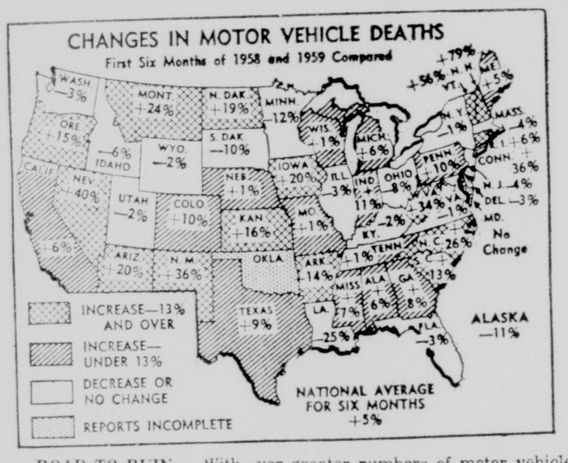

Nikita Khrushchev in the lead, many thought, still has those unstatesman-like physical proportions against him. With that bald, shining head, thick neck, broad shoulders, darting little eyes, broad nose, double chin, surplus stomach and soft, pudgy hands, he comes closer to suggesting a steel-town bartender than a statesman.

He smiles easily and some times benignly as though the house were about to buy a round. But just as easily, he grows taut, his eyes narrow in anger, his voice rumbles as if at any moment he will personally throw an offending customer out.

But this is only the physical man. Few came away from the National Press Club doubting Khrushchev's ability or intelligence. As a speaker and thinker on his feet, he was fast, adaptable, confident, strong.

The formal speech could have been streamlined but the question-and-answer scene had a taut, dramatic pace.

It was quite a performance, but the general plot still needs clarifying.

ROAD TO RUIN — With ever greater numbers of motor vehicles on the nation's highways, Americans appear headed for a boom year in traffic deaths—possibly 39,000 of them. Figures from the National Safety Council reveal that the national average for the first six months of 1959 is 5 per cent above the same period a year ago. The January to June toll in 1958 was 16,300; in 1959 it was 17,100. Newschart above shows the percentage record for individual states.

DiSalle Tells SDX Chapter of Need for Planning

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The State of Ohio, like a big industrial corporation, should plan many years ahead, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle believes.

He told a dinner audience of the professional journalism fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, Wednesday night that there is great need for a central planning agency to provide coordination and continuity in preparing to meet future problems of state government.

As Ohio grows industrially, the costs of its government also will grow, DiSalle said.

The governor said he wanted the Legislature to set up a Hoover-Commission type of study for state government reorganization, but failed to win support for the move.

Fremont Airman Dies In Intake Of Jet Aircraft

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — A naval airman from Fremont, Ohio was killed Tuesday in air operations aboard the carrier Bon Homme Richard off Monterey, Calif.

Officials at Alameda Naval Air Station said the carrier's commander sent a brief report that James Bliss died of injuries suffered on the flight deck.

Fleet Air Headquarters said Bliss, an apprentice seaman, was sucked into the air intake of an 8U Crusader jet plane.

Bliss was a son of John William Bliss of Fremont.

Monday actor Wayne Morris died of a heart attack aboard the Bon Homme Richard as a naval reserve lieutenant commander.

Signs of Thaw Are Pointed Out By Red Premier

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ice of the cold war has not only shown signs of a crack but has started to crumble, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in exchanging toasts with President Eisenhower.

"Although this wine is cold," Khrushchev said as he raised a glass of champagne at an embassy dinner Wednesday night, "may our relations become warmer, may the atmosphere become warmed so as to melt the ice of the cold war and ensure favorable conditions of peaceful coexistence between states—between our peoples."

He said he hoped the exchange visits with the President "will further a warm spell in international relations. The ice of the cold war has not only already shown signs of a crack but has started to crumble." He did not say which of the cold war issue he thought were crumbling.

Eisenhower said in his toast to Khrushchev that he hoped their talks mean at least the beginning of the melting of the cold war's ice. He said that perhaps growing understanding between the masses of the American and Soviet people might help settle international problems.

A complete unofficial text of Khrushchev's lengthy remarks was released by the Soviet Embasy after the dinner. It issued only a summary of Eisenhower's remarks.

Players' Comedy Set Tonight

As members of the Salem Players readied for the dress rehearsal of "Lo and Behold" a three-act comedy which opens tonight at the Junior High School auditorium, the dressing room above the stage was a flurry of activities.

Bunny Livingston, top picture, is shown putting the finishing touches on the grease-and-powdered Tom Starkey. By means of the over-sized eyebrow pencil, Tom suddenly acquired a rather grotesque facial expression.

Joan Gerwing, shown at right, is adding the last special touch to her makeup before going on stage.

Starting at 8:15 p.m., the play will have its final curtain call Saturday.

Civil Rights Offices To Open Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Regional offices for the newly created Ohio Civil Rights Commission will be opened in Cleveland and Cincinnati, the commission's director said Wednesday.

Director Frank Baldau said offices will be opened as soon as qualified personnel can be obtained. Each office will have a regional diector. He added that two additional offices may be opened later in other metropolitan areas.

The offices will pursue the commission's program for fair employment practices and receive complaints regarding violation of Ohio's new fair employment practices law.

CONVICTED IN ROBBERY

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Donald Allen Kiger of Richmond, Ind., was convicted Wednesday in U.S. District Court in the $27,138 robbery of a nearby Phillipsburg bank last Jan. 3. Sentencing was set for today. Kiger, 29, testified he was nowhere near the branch of the Winters National Bank & Trust Co. at the time of the robbery.

Death Toll at 100 In Italian Disaster

BARLETTA, Italy (AP — Disaster teams probing the rubble of a collapsed five-story apartment house said today the death toll was almost certain to exceed 100. Thirty bodies were recovered.

Police said 73 persons were still missing and believed trapped beneath the heap of shattered concrete and twisted steel. Fifteen persons were injured. Almost all victims died in their beds.

Authorities said it was possible that even more persons than the 118 now known were in the building when it crumbled with earthquake violence at 7 a. m. Wednesday.

Among the missing were three workmen who arrived moments before the tragedy to repair a wall which began to crack three days ago.

The building originally was a one-story garage. Four stories were added in the last six months and most of the residents had just moved in. It was of modern design with a marble-decorated front and garden balconies.

Most of the residents were businessmen and city employes and their families.

RULING ISSUED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A special federal court has ruled that the reading of the Bible and the compulsory recitation of The Lord's Prayer in Pennsylvania's public schools are illegal.

Three judges ruled Wednesday the two violated the 1st and 14th amendments of the U.S. Constitution.

Middletown Studies Shopping Mall Plan

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Middletown, taking a tip from Toledo, opens a downtown pedestrian shopping mall today.

The two-block-long area in the downtown district will be blocked off to vehicular traffic for a 30-day trial period. Then city officials will decide whether to make it permanent.

Toledo has been experimenting with such a shopping mall for several weeks.

W. W. Sebald, retired Armco Steel Corp. official, was to open the mall today after a breakfast for city, civic and business officials. Flowers have been planted throughout the mall and there is a fountain as a centerpiece. The fountain is surrounded by a stone patio.

RAND INDICTED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County grand jury Wednesday indicted George Albert Rand, 34, for first-degree murde in the torch slaying of Melvin E. Payne July 2. Rand is accused of fatally shooting and burning Payne, 35, an investigator for the Bureau of Unemployment compensation.

Teen-Ager Convicted On Charge of Murder

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A jury Wednesday convicted Carl Ellis Farley, 17, of second-degree murder in a fatal shooting here last Dec. 4. Sentencing by Judge Robert McBride is scheduled today.

Farley was charged in the shooting of Julius P. Milnickel, 19, of Dayton. Farley testified he thought Milnickel was armed and it was self-defense. Witnesses who were with the victim said Farley attempted to stat an argument with Milnickel after the pair accidentally bumpede on the street.

Akron Team Ousts Lincoln Machine 1-0 In 17th Inning

60 Strike Out In Marathon

Ace Hurlers Give Up Only 10 Hits

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

A bloop single to left field in the last half of the 17th inning sent home the only run of the game as Salem Lincoln Machine was eliminated from the Invitational Softball Tournamet Wednesday night by Akron City Cafe.

Oop Eckman of Akron and Fats Katich of Lincoln Machine hooked up in the finest pitchers' duel in the three-year history of the tournament. Their 16 innings of double shutout ball was a tourney record.

There were a total of 60 strikeouts in the marathon. Katich averaged better than two strikeouts an inning, recording a total of 35. Eckman set down 25 via the strikeout route.

NEITHER TEAM was without its scoring chances. Salem stranded runners on second and third in the third inning after having only one out. In the sixth inning they had a man on third with one out, and in the 14th, they had a runner on second with nobody out.

Katich retired the first 19 Akron batters to face him but had to pitch out of trouble in the seventh. He retired the final two outs of the inning with runners on second and third.

He the breezed along until the 14th when Akron put runners on first and second with only one out, but once again he tightened in the clutch. It was the same story in the 15th when Akron advanced a runner to third with only one out.

THE THREE HOUR contest came to a sudden halt in the 17th when Akron's leadoff batter, Jim Smith, touched Katich for a walk. He was sacrificed to second by John Dakoski and came home on Tony Lacoma's blooper to left.

Ironically, the base on balls that beat Katich was the only one he issued in the game. His opponent also walked only one man.

Both Eckman and Katich had pitched shutouts the previous night. Eckman had tossed a two-hitter, and Katich, a one-hitter.

Last night, Akron was able to touch Katich for only four bingles. Salem collected just six hits off Eckman. Lincoln stranded eight men on the base paths and Akron left six.

Lacoma collected another single besides his game-winning blow to lead the batters in what was definitely a pitchers' night. Leadoff batter Joe Hrovatic had two hits in seven at bats for Salem.

CITY CAFE together with another Akron club, Red's Bar, and Canton Dolph's Tavern are the only survivors in the tournament from an original field of 32 teams. Lincoln was the eighth and final Salem team to be dropped from the double elimination tourney.

Tonight at 8 at Kelley Park, Akron City Cafe and Canton Dolph's Tavern will fight it out for the right to face Akron Red's Bar in the finals at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Red's Bar is the only one of the three teams without a loss. The winner tonight must defeat Red's twice in order to take the tournament trophy.

Drivers to Seek Championship Trophy at Canfield

Race drivers will be seeking their most coveted honor when they duel at Canfield Speedway Saturday at 8:30 p.m. It's the season championship trophy.

The late models and modified "bombs" will compete in 35-lap features for the huge trophies.

As an added attraction the sports cars will also clash in a 25-lap feature race. In all, there will be nine races, including the three features.

Dean Mast of Sugar Creek will be favored in the modified windup. Mast is Canfield's leading driver, with six victories — all in a row. Jim Bickerstaff of Youngstown will have to be rated tops for the late models as he also has gained the checkered flag six times.

Last week's winners, Ed Mitchell of Warren and Nook Walters of Niles, will be on hand to provide plenty of competition in the late model events. Also starting will be Rabbi Hippley of Salem, Bill Forney of Youngstown, Roy Gemberlin of Kent, Chuck Horsey of Warren, Dick Lantz of Newton Falls, Bud Cochran of Sharon and Russ Allen of Canfield.

Mast and Norm Calhoun of Akron share modified honors last week, each winning a 25-lap feature. Calhoun rates just behind Mast in the big modified field. Allen and Cochran will also be in this division.

Lane to Name 1960 Chief Next Week

Gordon's Tenure As Indians' Field Manager Appears Shaky

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Gordon's tenure as manager of the Cleveland Indians appeared shaky today, following a new blast from General Manager Frank Lane.

Lane made it clear in an interview with the Cleveland Plain Dealer Wednesday night that Gordon needs a miracle to stay on. If the second place Indians, now trailing the Chicago White Sox by 5½ games, could win the American League pennant, Gordon would be back as Cleveland manager in 1960.

But Lane said he had four or five men he preferred over Gordon as manager. He refused to say who they are. "If I can get one of them I will," he declared. "I'm thinking of a particular one, but I'm not sure he's available."

Next season's manager will be named before the end of next week, Lane said.

Gordon's failure to call for the bunt in certain game situations recently has irritated the volatile front office boss. The ruptured relations reached a low point Wednesday when both men criticized each other through newspaper headlines here and in Boston.

"I guess I'm a percentage baseball man for the most part. Joe is a gambling manager. It's true we weren't getting the base hits we needed in this trip, but a bunt in the right spot could have meant a couple of victories," Lane said, adding:

"My decision comes on his overall performance since taking over the club. I think he did a better job last season than this year. He was willing to take some advice then. Now he's become a little porky. Maybe he thinks he's a genius. He isn't by any means."

Lane feels Gordon didn't do a good job with the pitching staff and added:

"J'oe could have made better use of (pitching coach) Mel Harder. It wouldn't have been out of line to give Mel complete charge of the pitchers.

"And his relations with the players haven't been particularly good . . . There are some ball players here that he just doesn't want on the team. In fact, he's determined to run them off."

The managerial decision will be Lane's alone and he said there will be no meeting with the club's board of directors on the subject. "That was the understanding when I took this job," he explained.

Gordon was hired to replace Bobby Bragan, fired by Lane in the moddle of the 1953 season. When Gordon took over the team it was in sixth place but finished up fourth and won 46 while losing 40 under the former flashy second baker.

LSU to Meet Rice Saturday

Tigers Favored By 2 Touchdowns

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State's national champions open the football season against Rice Saturday without a blocking back and a top-flight punter.

But Coach Paul Dietzel's headaches would be welcome worries to LSU's 10 rivals this year. All point to the 31 lettermen the Tigers have returning, including All America halfback Billy Cannon.

On the surface, the talented Tigers appear too much of a match for Jess Neely's Owls, who lost 5 of theier 10 games last year. LSU is given a two-touchdown edge.

But although Dietzel has an optimistic outlook, he doesn't share the opinion that his Tigers are two touchdowns better than Rice.

"W'e're starting the season without a kicker of Tommy Davis' stature," Dietzel moaned, speaking of his ace punter and field goal artist who skipped another year at LSU to play professional football.

"And if that isn't enough, we've got to find a replacement for Red Brodnax, who probably was the best blocking back in the Southeastern Conference," said the 35-year-old Tiger mentor who was named football's Coach of the Year last season.

Buckeyes to Begin One-a-Day Sessions

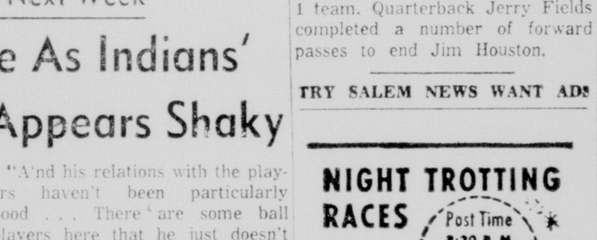

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's one-a-day practices starting today for Ohio State's football team, Coach Woody Hayes announced Wednesday after putting his Buckeyes through their final day of double drills.

Hayes said he was "not particularly impressed" with Wednesday's sessions. In scrimmages, Tom Matte, Terry Hansley, Bob Ferguson and Len Fontes gained most of the yardage for the No. 1 team. Quarterback Jerry Fields completed a number of forward passes to end Jim Houston.

Bucs, Cubs Split 3-2, 4-2

Braves Defeat Giants 2 to 0; Cincinnati Tops Los Angeles

By The Associated Press

If San Francisco loses the National League pennant, they can blame it on Lew Burdette, the greatest giant killer of them all.

Burdette did it again Wednesday, beating the Giants with a five-hitter 2-0 that slashed their lead to one game. It was his fifth victory over San Francisco this season, bringing his career record against the club to 24-9.

As a result of Burdette's victory, at the expense of 20-game winner Sam Jones, the Braves have a chance to go into a first place tie Thursday. Warren Spahn faces Jack Sanford in the final meeting of the two clubs.

If Spahn wins the Braves will be in excellent position. They will nave five games with Philadelphia and three with Pittsburgh.

If the Giants again can win "the big one" and retain their lead, they will be in a strong position. They have three important games at home against the Los Angeles Dodgers before hitting the road next week for the last five at Chicago and St. Louis.

The Dodgers blew a chance to close in on the Giants when they lost to Cincinnati 7-4. The defeat dropped Los Angeles into third place, two games back with nine to go.

Orlando Pena was the winner as Cincinnati whipped the Dodgers for the 13th time in 21 games. The Reds battered Sandy Koufax and three relief pitchers for 13 hits including homers by Frank Thomas and Willie Jones.

Del Crandall and the veteran Enos Slaughter drove in Milwaukee's two runs against the Giants. Joe Adcock's single and Slaughter's walk preceded Crandall's two-out single off Jones in the fourth. The Braves scored again in the eighth.

Vern Law won his 17th game for Pittsburgh, 3-2, in the opener of a double-header at Chicago but the Cubs bounced back to pin an 18th defeat on Bob Friend in the second game 4-2. Sammy Taylor's 11th homer in the ninth beat Friend. Philadelphia and St. Louis were idle.

Gleichmann, Coe Paired In Amateur

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Charlie Coe commented, "I'm playing real well." Tom Draper said, "All I am trying to do is qualify for the Masters."

That summed up the feeling of 16 players showing up for today's fifth round in the U.S. Amateur Golf Tournament being played on the 7,010-yard, par-71 Broadmoor course.

Coe, the tall, skinny defending champion from Oklahoma City, was paired against Ted Gleichmann of Saticoy, Calif., who has played two previous National meets without going anywhere.

Draper, a 45-year old sales manager for a Royal Oak, Mich., firm, plays 20-year-old Dudley Wysong Jr. of Dallas, one of Texas' better young amateurs.

Dave Smith of Gastonia, N.C., was paired against Jack Nicklaus, Ohio State University junior, in a match of long ball hitters.

The fifth, or morning round, also carried a bonus of a Masters tournament berth for the eight winners.

Browns to Face Midway Monsters Saturday Night

CLEVELAND (AP) — As the Cleveland Browns head into their final exhibition game with the Chicago Bears here Saturday night Coach Paul Browns says he will use the players who are expected to carry the load during the season.

"We'll be putting the pieces together in this one," he said Wednesday as the team took a spirited workout in the rain. "Most of the decisions have been made," Brown added.

One of the question marks remains at offensive right tackle. It appears that Willie Davis will share that position with rookie Fran O'Brien from Michigan State. The coach also wants a good look at Ohio State's Dick LeBeau in the defensive backMichigan as a running halfback.

Strikeouts — Drysdale, Los Angeles, 228; S. Jones, San Francisco, 200.

Chisox Need Three Wins for First Pennant In 40 Years

Salem Riders To Take Part In Tourney

The Salem Polo Club will be in Poland this weekend to take part in the Second Annual Chad Johnston Memorial Tournament.

Four teams are entered in the tournament. Besides Salem they are host Mahoning Valley, Beaver Valley and Cleveland. Salem has drawn Beaver Valley in the tourney opener at 2 p.m. Saturday. Three of the local's six victories this year have come over the Beaver Valley Club. The Pennsylvania outfit has yet to best Salem.

The Penn-Ohio League's two leading clubs, Cleveland and Mahoning Valley will tangle in the second game Saturday at 4 p.m. Cleveland was last year's champ and Mahoning was runner-up. The defending champs hold a 3-1 edge over Mahoning in games played this year.

On Sunday, the two losing teams will meet in a consolation match at 2 p.m., and the winners will tangle for the rotating gold trophy at 4 p.m. The tournament is held in honor of the late Chad Johnston, former area polo enthusiast.

The Poland Polo field is located on Route 224, one and one-half miles east of Poland. Admission is $1 for adults. There is no charge for children and parking is free.

Benefit Game Nets $80 for Frank Lanney

The benefit softball game at Kelley Park Wednesday night between the Salem Old Timers and Lincoln Machine netted approximately $80 for Frank Lanney, according to Dave Brisken, Softball Association official.

Lanney, a member of the Lincoln Machine squad this season, was injured while participating in a playoff game with his team last month. He attended last night's game with his leg in a heavy cast. He was recently operated on for an injured Achilles tendon.

Some of the Old Timers played last night as if they might have gone into retirement prematurely. Starting hurler John Zines showed that he still has some zip left in his fast ball. Infielders Al Zocolo, Jim Primm and Demps Balsley managed to stop everything hit their direction while still showing some agility.

The Old Timers lost the game 6-4 despite some help from umpires Pat Bolen and John Wagner.

Other Old Timers taking part in the game were Jim Cherry, Jack Rance, Pete Davis, Red Hall, Peanuts Debnar, Dale Ritchey, Don Kopf, Dave Kachner, Dan Bruderly, Dan Kenst and Torch Nedelka.

BRADFORD INSERTED

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Rich Bradford of Lancaster, Ohio, was put in the first-string wingback position on Indiana's football squad Wedneday. Bradford, just recovered from a practice injury, replaced Randy Williams, who has a pulled leg muscle.

Hitting — Gus, Bell, Reds, drove in three runs with two doubles and a single in Cincinnati's 7-4 victory over Los Angeles.

Yankees Dump Chicago 3 to 1

Bosox Turn Back Indians 6 to 5

By The Associated Press

All signs point to a gala pennant - clinching celebration this weekend by the Chicago White Sox in Comiskey Park.

Cleveland's hopes fade daily. If the White Sox don't win, the Indians oblige by losing.

The magic number now is three for the White Sox to nail down their first American League championship since 1919. Any combination of three Chicago victories and Cleveland defeats would do it.

The entire league has an open date, but Chicago could assure itself of no worse than a tie Friday if it can beat Detroit and Kansas City defeats Cleveland.

The White Sox lost 3-1 to the New York Yankees Wednesday but maintained their 5½-game lead with only seven to play.

The Indians, with eight to go, lost 6-5 to Boston.

Early Wynn appeared to be rolling toward his 21st victory at Yankee Stadium with a 1-0 lead over New York going into the sixth. The Yanks, however, kicked up their heels for three runs in the sixth to win behind the red hot rookie Jim Coates four-hitter.

Wynn helped dig his own grave when he mishandled a bunt by Bobby Richardson opening the sixth. The bunt was good enough for a base hit but Wynn attempted to hold up his throw at the last second and tossed the ball into short right. A walk to Mickey Mantle and singles by Yogi Berra, Hector Lopez and Hank Bauer then produced the three runs.

Cleveland blew leads of 2-0 and 5-2 as Boston came back to tie it twice with two in the seventh and when a three-run rally in the eighth. The Red Sox finally won it in the last of the ninth.

Detroit recaptured fourth place from Baltimore by downing the Orioles 3-1 in a night game behind Don Mossi and Tom Morgan. Washington and Kansas City were not scheduled.

In the National League, Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves shut out San Francisco 2-0, cutting the Giants' lead to one game. Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 7-4. Pittsburgh split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning 3-2 and losing 4-2.

Sidelined for Season

Henry Maxim

Henry Maxim, a Salem youth on the varsity football roster of Southern California, has sustained a knee injury which will keep him on the sidelines during the current grid season.

Maxim, one of the best football players to graduate from Salem High School, will undergo surgery to enable him to return to the squad next year.

He waws running on the fourth unit at fullback after transferring to Southern Cal from Santa Monica City College where he was a member of the undefeated 1959 squad that won the Junior Rose Bowl Game.

He is a nephew of Ralph and Ed Pucci, who also are former Southern Cal stars from Ohio.

FOOTBALL by Red Grange

Written for NEA Service

What are the duties of football officials?

The referee working behind the offensive team has general overall control.

The umpire working behind the defending team concentrates mainly on the tackles. Most of the trouble starts in the middle of the line. The umpire watches for illegal use of the hands, etc. His principal responsibility is to keep the game clean.

The head linesman works in the neutral zone on the side of the field opposite the field judge. His main responsibility is the line of scrimmage. He marks the position and keeps track of the progress of the ball.

The field judge sort of picks up loose ends. He calls field goals and tries for points. He is responsible for the timing of the game.

The field judge has a tough time with calls in the end zone which the back judge can cover perfectly. The back judge works from 15 to 18 yards behind the umpire, leaving the field judge free to concentrate on the line of scrimmage.

How to Get the Best Education For Your Child

Hold Down Activities for The Busy High School Student

This is the eighth of 15 articles, condensed from the book, "How To Get the Best Education for Your Child," written by the former education editor of the New York Times and his wife, an educator herself.

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE
And LILLIAN FINE

At the beginning of the ninth grade, your boy or girl must decide at least tentatively whether to prepare for college, a business career to begin right after high school, or prepare to enter a skilled trade.

If your child is certain he does not want to go to college but does want a business or technical career, it may be worth while to let him commute to the nearest city where appropriate training is available.

But if a youngster is undecided about what he wants to do after high school, the college preparatory course is probably the best choice.

SUBJECTS STUDIED in the ninth grade are considerably more difficult on the whole than those studied in the seventh and eighth grades. All pupils continue to study English.

Pupils who find the selections too difficult may acquire a lasting dislike for serious literature. Parents can assist by talking about the plays and stories, — helping youngsters to appreciate their quality.

College preparatory students usually take biology, taught as a laboratory science. Many pupils enjoy the laboratory work, but fail the final examination. Parents can help by discussing the subject, showing youngsters how to take notes and review, having quiz games on scientific subjects, and arranging field trips.

A good many schools now require college preparatory students to take mathematics in the ninth grade. They usually take elementary algebra. Encourage your child to play with mathematical puzzles and riddles. The nation's need for trained mathematicians and the rich opportunities awaiting them should be pointed out.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY students usually begin their study of a foreign language in the ninth grade. Whichever language your youngster chooses, he may have difficulty. Parents who have studied languages can help a good deal, but even if you haven't, you can help your youngster by asking him the meaning of words in his homework assignment.

There are some reasonably priced record albums that can be helpful or perhaps you can purchase a foreign-language newspaper or magazine which your child can take to class.

The big thing is to show your interest in the child's progress and let him know you are proud of him.

By the eleventh grade your youngster is carrying a really heavy scholastic program. He need all the encouragement you can give him. A large number of pupils leave school at the beginning of the eleventh grade. They give all sorts of reasons but seldom admit the most common one, inability to do the work.

WE ALL WANT our own children to take a good high school program, with courses in general education as well as specialized ones. President-Emeritus James B. Conant of Harvard makes these recommendations:

"Each child should be required to take four years of English, three or four years of social studies (including two years of history), a senior course in American problems of American government, one year of science (biology or general physical science) and a year of mathematics (algebra or general mathematics)."

Along with a choice of courses, many schools permit students to choose their teachers, at least in later high school years. Parents can encourage youngsters to choose the good teacher, "the teacher who makes you learn."

If there are two geometry teachers and one of them has the reputation of being top-flight, ask the principal to have your child assigned to the good one. In some schools the principals may resent your interference, but informed parents have a right to this type of interference.

ANY PARENT who sincerely wants his child to get a good education will study each report card carefully and discuss it with his youngster. Most report cards carry a notation asking parents to discuss the card with the school authorities. Do you accept that invitation? If you do, you are the exception.

What can you do if it seems likely that your son or daughter will fail a subject?

For certain youngsters, one failure may be truly an educational experience. It shocks them into getting down to work.

A child should not be allowed to fail repeatedly, however. Worse that, the loss of time in school may be the psychological effect.

What can you do if a youngster really tries but for some reason can't seem to comprehend a subject?

It may be poor teaching; it may be that the student was absent or not feeling well when key concepts were taught; or it may be that the subject is beyond the child's comprehension at this particular age. When all else fails, you might consider getting special help for your child.

ONE RATHER RELIABLE indication that a youngster is having trouble in school is repeated truancy. If a "talking to" doesn't bring about an improvement, perhaps the youngster should transfer to another school, or find courses more in line with his interests. Perhaps he should go to boarding school.

There is another major cause of failure in high school: neglect of practice in the basic skills of reading, spelling, arithmetic and written English. High school pupils need to broaden and deepen their reading ability. They need encouragement to keep reading for pleasure.

Secondary schools often provide a wide variety of extra-curricular activities, such as sports, clubs, and social affairs.

We are convinced that in this a youngster can steer a middle ground. To be a "grind' is not healthy. Nevertheless, the primary purpose of going to school is to learn. Let us put first things first.

College officers are seldom impressed by the applicant who has barely passing marks and a long string of extracurricular achievements.

NEXT: Score card for finding a good school.

COMING ATTRACTION? — Chubby little charmer, 6-month-old Amanda Blair Mayo just might grow up to become as big a star as her mother, actress Janet Blair. Mom has a supporting role in the swimming pool at their Hollywood home.

Delirium Tremens Is Tragic for Alcoholics

Uncontrolled drinking of alcoholic beverages is one of the most colossal problems existing today. There are many different sides to it, but today I want to discuss one of the terrible consequences of too-heavy, long, continued drinking known as delirium tremens.

This is no condition to joke about and the person who has it and complains of seeing pink elephants or sakes under the bed is more to be pitied than laughed at.

In the person who has delirium tremens the poisonous effects of prolonged excessive drinking have reached the stage of serious danger. Delirium tremens usually comes in attacks. These take different forms in different people. Sometimes the victim becomes violent and threatens anyone and everyone around. At other times an attack may not involve actual violence but merely "seeing" things which are not there. On the whole the disease thoroughly deserves its long time name of "shaking madness."

An attack of "DTs" is a most unpleasant experience for all concerned. Symptoms come on quickly over a period of two or three days, usually during or immediately after a "bender." The sleep becomes broken, appetite is lost, and intolerable restlessness develops. Frightening dreams occur and often wake the victim from sound sleep.

The most characteristic symptom, of course, is the seeing of something which is not real. Often this takes the form of small moving creatures such as spiders, beetles, snakes, mice, rats or the like. A fever and excessive sweating, often associated with other symptoms and signs, are common.

An attack often lasts for three or four days. Eventually, a good long sleep is likely to set in after which mental and physical improvement rapidly take place.

Delirium tremens is dangerous, it can usually be cured, and violence in an attack is more likely than not. Complete abstinence from alcohol is in order. Although this is only one of the complications from long heavy drinking, it is one of the most frightening.

The effects on the victim as well as on the relatives are little short of tragic. The number of people who have lost their jobs and entered "skid row" from this and other effects of excessive alcohol is almost incalculable. Anyone who has seen a person with delirium tremens is likely to develop a new respect for the hazards of alcoholism.

Apples Appear on Markets; Here's How to Select Them

More and more apples will appear in markets this week as many varieties come closer to maturity, according to Ed Watkins of Canfield, market information agent with the Agricultural Extension Service in this district.

Ohio Nonpareil is a variety well liked in this area. This variety is almost entirely limited to eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. Ohio Nonpariel is one of the seasons first good general purpose variety and is characterized by a red blush covering about one-quarter of the surface of the apple.

A more widely grown variety now reaching maturity is Wealthy. These apples have a limited amount of red color and will be available through October. For eating purposes the variety should be allowed to ripen, but Wealthy's too are a good general purpose variety.

The next variety in maturity are McIntosh, an old favorite in fall apples over the whole eastern half of the United States. Most McIntosh are still not ready for the best eating quality at this time. Around the first of October "Macs" are really tops. In addition to being a good eating apple, McIntosh is recommended for baking, sauce, pies and salads.

Jonathan, Rome Beauty and Cortland will follow these varieties in a short time. These are all red varieties. For yellow apples, Golden Delicious and Grimes Golden will shortly be available.

How to Pick Them

Regardless of the variety chosen apples should be selected that are clean, trim and well shaped, well cooked for the variety and fairly free from blemishes or soft spots.

Apples may be graded to United States standards. United States Extra Fancy is the best grade, followed by United States Fancy, United States No. 1, United States No. 1 Cooking and United States Utility. Most apples on the market have been graded United States No. 1. The only practical difference between United States No. 1 and the fancy grades is the amount of color on the apple. A label of United States No. 1 on a basket or bag of apples gives consumers a buying standard under which they can reasonably expect a good product.

This week will begin the wind-up of the 1959 fresh peach season. There is still time to put the last batch in the canner or freezer.

It won't be long until you'll wish you had cleaned and oiled the power lawn mower when you put it away last fall.

Meat Loaf

Ingredients: 1 egg, ½ cup milk, 2 cups soft bread crumbs (4 thin slices with crusts), ½ teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons instant minced onion, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 pound of ground lean beef, 1 pound sausage meat.

Method: In a medium - sized bowl beat egg and milk enough to combine. Add bread crumbs and allow to stand for 10 minutes or longer; work together with a fork. Stir in salt, pepper, onion and chili sauce. Add beef and sausage; work in well. Rinse a loaf pan (about 8 by 4 by 3 inches) with cold water; pack meat into it; run a spatula around sides; turn loaf out on baking pan (11 by 7 by 1½ inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour. Pour off fat; allow loaf to stand about 10 minutes; remove from pan. Add a little water to drippings in pan and stirring, bring to a boil, to make a small amount of natural gravy. Makes 6 servings.

Children Need These Foods to Grow On

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures food Editor

Protein is the stuff children grow on and that we all need for body repair. It is high-quality protein, along with imporant vitamins and minerals, that meat, poultry, fish, eggs and milk provide.

The chances are you serve meat, poultry or fish often at the main meal of the day. Eggs may come with breakfast or, handly, at lunch.

Milk should appear all-around-the day because it is not only a fine source of protein but it is our leading provider of the mineral calcium. Children (pre-school and school-age) need three to four 8-ounce cups of milk a day; teenagers need four or more.

Adults should include at least two cups in their daily diet. For part or all of the milk, nonfat dry milk, fresh fluid skim milk, evaporated milk or buttermilk may be used.

Ice cream (in any flavor) may replace part of the milk. But you might remember that a half-cup serving of ice cream is the equivalent in calcium of a quarter-cup of milk.

Cheese may also replace part of the milk. Cheddar is a good choice and it comes mild, sharp and very sharp; soft, semi-hard and hard. Cottage cheese may be bought packaged cream-style, or in dry bulk form, ready to use in appetizer dips, salads as a filling for paper-thin pancakes and in cheese cakes and pies.

PROTEIN PROVIDERS: Eggs and cheese are two of the foods that will give your family high-quality protein. Here blue cheese is smartly used with baked eggs.

In recent years excellent blue cheese has been made in this country. It has caught on well with men—in salad dressings and sandwiches, or slathered over cuts in loaves of crunchy hot French bread.

An intriguing dish combines egg and cheese. For each serving, beat an egg white with a pinch of salt until stiff; turn into a buttered individual casserole. Drop the egg yolk over the center of the egg-white nest and sprinkle with crumbled blue cheese. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven 12 minutes or until set as much as you like.

Crabmeat Salad

Ingredients: 3 cans (6½ ounces each) king crabmeat, ½ cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons catchup, ¼ of a large lemon, 1 tablespoon drained capers, romaine, 1 cucumber, 1 small green pepper, 1 small onion (preferably red), 1 tablespoon rd wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon sugar.

Method: Drain crabmeat; remove cartilage; reserve some of the large pink pieces of crab for a garnish.

Mix together the mayonnaise, catchup juice from the lemon and capers; mix lightly with crab. Arrange romaine leaves on a large shallow salad bowl; mound crab mixture in center.

Top with reserved crabmat pieces. Arrange sliced cucumber and green pepper rings on romaine around it. Peel, slice and separate onion into thin rings; marinate in vinegar and sugar.

Cover salad bowl and refrigerate until serving time; add onion rings to garnish and dribble small amount of marinade over romane. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Are you getting your money's worth out of the food you buy for family meals?

"Why, my husband and children love my cooking most of the time they lick their plates"

Okay, okay, enjoyment is a mightly big value. But there are hidden values in food, summed up in the word "nutrients." These are the substances that keep us in good health by providing nourishment and promoting growth, and that regulate and repair our body processes.

Vegetables and fruit make up one of the important groups of food families need. Nutritionists agree that every single day each of us needs at least four servings from this category; these must include a citrus fruit or other fruit or vegetable important for vitamin C. And at least every other day familes need a dark-green or deep-yellow vegetable for vitamin A.

Frozen vegetables and fruit, so widely used nowadays, may be as high in nutritive value as the corresponding fresh vegetables and fruit. But the nutrients, flavor and texture they offer at your dining table will depend on how you store, cook and serve them.

As a general rule, in cooking frozen vegetables, use no more than the amount of boiling water specified on the package. Or use less, adding more water if necessary during the cooking. If you are preparing two packages of vegetables, place the frozen (or in some cases the partially defrosted) blocks side by side in a deep skillet or wide sauepan; use only the amount of water necessary for one package. Separate the vegetables with a fork as they heat through.

Cook the vegetables as short a time as possible; get your family used to enjoying them tender-crisp. Serve them right after cooking.

If you partially defrost such vegetables as broccoli or asparagus stalks, cauliflower or brussel sprouts, do so in the original sealed packages. Cover the pan during the cooking. Vitamins, and C especially, do not benefit from being aired.

Frozen fruits look and taste good, and their food values are best retained, when they are served as soon as thawed, while a few icy crystals remain.

What about re-freezing foods? Has something like the following ever happened to you?

You've taken hamburgers out of the freezer for the family. Your husband phones to say an old school friend is in town, and that he would like to bring his pal home for a steak dinner. Sure you answer amiably. But like a thrifty wife, you're thinking: is it safe to put those hamburgers back into the freezer?

Yes, if the meat is still firm and ice crystals remain. But label them, and for best quality and flavor use the meat as soon as possible after re-freezing. In emergency situations, this gauge of firmness and ice crystals may be applied to all frozen foods. Once a food has thawed completely, do not re-freeze it.

One of the best things that has happened to frozen foods is the new frost-proof home freezer that can hold them. Packakges stay hard as rock but there is no frost on them to chip off and none in the freezer. What with this convenient time-saving development, mothers may now have enough energy and interest to give frozen foods the tender loving care they deserve.

Barbs

Pigs gobbled up $75 that was in the wallet of an Indiana farmer—the hogs.

Among the things that grow in the home garden are vegetables, flowers and lumbago.

If people would just stop to think they'd never think of saying the things that lose friends.

Easy to Make Pizza Real Family Treat

Here's fun for all the family—a new pizza everyone will like. It requirs no special cooking skill, just appetizing ingredients.

Hamburg Pizza (Makes 6 servings)

One pound chopped beef, 1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 egg, beaten 1-3 cup quick-cooking rice cereal, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, ¼ cup chili sauce, ¼ cup finely diced green pepper, ¼ cup finely diced onion, 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese.

Place meat in mixing bowl. Add mushrooms including broth, egg, rice creal. Mix together thoroughly with large kitchen fork and place in well-greased 9-by 12-inch cake pan. Combine tomato sauce, chili auce, green pepper and onion. Pour over meat mixture. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in prehated (375 degrees F.) oven for 45 minutes. Serve cut in six wedges.

This crabmeat dish is another novel item. It's perfect for a luncheon party.

Crabmeat With Almonds and Pimentos (6 servings)

Two (6½ ounces) can Japanese crabmeat, 1 (7 ounces) can or jar whole pimentos (cut in pieces or strips), 3 tablespoons olive or salad oil, 1 (8 ounces) package broad noodles, snipped parsley, ½ cup blanched almonds (optional).

Remove membrane from crabmeat, reserving large chunks for garnish. Toss remaining crabmeat and pimento liquid over low heat, and pimento liqui over low heat. Meanwhile, cook and drain noodles according to package directions.

Lucious Leg of Lamb Takes to Partners

Lamb goes hand in hand with herbs. Want to read and taste?

Leg of lamb with one of the best sauces cooks ever dreamed up—made from fine vinegar, sugar and fresh int that usually grew in garens but nowadays may come from the corner market.

Lamb steaks (those good first slices cut from a "long" leg of lamb) annointed with rosemary plus freshly-ground black pepper.

Classic lamb kebabs, after an overnight stay with olive oil, onion and oregano, skewered and broiled over charcoal.

Then there are rich brown lamb chops for a quick main dish from the broiler. Fresh green peas with scallions, a little mint and a dollop of butter with these. What could be better?

But those chops can be juicy and tender or dry and tough. To have the first, you need to follow the French cooks who serve their lamb a trifle pink. We know this suggestion goes against American culinary folkways. But do yourself a favor and just once try it. If you're not convinced, you can put the chops back under the broiler!

Like rice with lamb? Then some-es add butter (plenty of it), urry powder (to suit yourself) nd grated orange rind to the rice. Or take a leaf from Armenian cookery and add pine nuts and currants.

And now's the time for that famous duo-grilled lamb chops with broiled tomatoes. The French usually add sprigs of water cress to this for a crisp green garnish.

Ingredients: 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon white pepper, 1 tablespoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice), 1 small clove garlic (crushed), 4 loin lamb chops (¾ to 1 inch thick), 2 medium-sized tomatoes (cut in half crosswise), 1 teaspoon butter, paprika.

Method: Mix the salt, pepper, onion and garlic.

Spread a little of the mixture over one side of each chop; broil several inches from source of heat until browned. Turn chops and spread other sides with a little of the seasoning.

Spread cut sides of tomatoes with remaining seasoning; dot with butter. Sprinkle top sides of chops and tomatoes with paprika.

Reutrn chops to broiler with tomatoes and finish broiling; by the time chops are done tmat o e s should be cooked through. Count on about 12 to 18 minutes broiling time for the grill. Makes 2 to 4 servings.

Boiled Lobster, Symbol of Maine, Is Fine Eating

From Kittery, Maine, we drove north to Portland and an hour later were up to our ears in clams and lobster. We dined at Boone's on Custom House Wharf, in the knotty pine room with red and white checkered cloths.

First came lobster stew—hunks of fresh lobster meat in rich milk with lots of butter, served with pickles and crackers. Next, fried clams - delightful beyond belief, delicate, tasting somewhat like banana fritters. Eugene Boone, carrying on the business establish by his father 61 years ago, told us the clams are first dipped in beaten whole egg, milk and a little flour, each one individually, then fried in deep fat.

The live lobsters were boiled in sea water. We began by spreading the delicious greenish substance in the body cavity, called tamalley, on crackers. Next, we removed the tender meat from tail and claws and dipped it, unseasoned, in melted butter. Boone told us to "work for our supper," meaning to dig out all the sweet morsels from the tiny feelers and body cavity. He then told us about a the private life of the famous Maine lobster, one of the world's three true lobsters.

Its natural color is a greenish-black or brown to blend with his surrounding rock and kelp. It has eight legs and two claws, the larger used to crush with, and the smaller to cut food. Because the lobster's shell does not grow, he just sheds it as his body size increases. Then he hides in rock crevices and mud burrows until the new shell is strong.

Lobster Stew, "Down-East" Style
(Yield: 4 servings)

Two cups fresh lobster meat (or canned), ¼ cup butter, 2 cups cream, 2 cups milk, salt and pepper, butter, paprika.

Cut lobster meat into ½-inch slices. Melt butter in heavy iron skillet. Saute lobster meat until slightly brown. Combine milk and cream; heat to just boiling point. Add lobster meat, washing out skillet with some of the milk. Add it, too.

Breakfast Important to Young, Old

Hunger, caused by skipping breakfast or eating only very poor breakfasts, leads to inattention at school, slow-ups at work, arm temors and other nervous manifestations.

Studies at schools, colleges, industry and health agencies definitely show that children do better at school and adults at work if they eat an adequate breakfast. Also that those who eat a good breakfast had better accident records.

According to U.S. Department of Agriculture nutritionists, a good breakfast must fulfill three requirements: furnish protein, vitamins minerals; provide for body energy, and taste good. A leaflet, "Eat A GOOD Breakfast" (L-268) prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C., is packed with valuable common sese information on the importance of breakfasts. Single copies are free on request from the department.

Older people also need good breakfasts. The day's food for older people should be divided fairly evenly among the three meals, starting with a well-balanced breakfast. A cereal and milk breakfast will provide the protein, calpores, and other nutreints, to keep them well-nourished. It is easy to chew and digest. It also calls for the minimum of preparation, when nonfat milk is used, it is moderaely low in fat and cholesterol.

The following desert recipe is a good choice for older members of the family. It is light, popular and made with a breakfast cereal.

Apple Brown Betty
(Yield: 6 to 8 servings)

Cereal Topping: Two cups crushed shredded wheat biscuits (use bite-size, oblong, spoon-size, or round shredded wheat biscuits), 1 cup brown sugar, packed; 1-3 cup butter or margarine, melted.

Filling: One-half cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup chopped pecans (optional), 4 cups sliced apples (6 to 6 medium), 1-3 cup seedless raisins, 1 tablespoon water.

Blend topping ingredients together well. Stir granulated sugar, cinnamon and salt together and combine with remaining filling ingredients; mix well. Starting and ending with a layer of cereal topping, alternate 3 layers of topping with 2 of fruit filling in a greased 2-quart casserole, 8¼x2¾ inches or baking pan, 11x7½x1 inches. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until apples are tender, 40 to 45 minutes.

IN THE BALANCE -- Russia's claimed successful landing of of a rocket on the moon, a feat requiring more brute power than orbiting the same weight around the earth, increases speculation that the Soviets possess a rocket fuel more powerful than any known to the U.S. Russian-U.S. standing on the "weight in space" scoreboard is shown in graph above. Total weight of the Red moon rocket was given as 3,342 pounds 854 pounds of which were instruments. By comparison, the largest American satellite, the "talking" Atlas, carried only 150 pounds of instruments, although the entire rocket, weighing 8,800 pounds, went into a 920-mile orbit.

Tracy's Assignment

By TRACYANN BOYLE

By TACY AN BOYLE
(For Her Father, Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Daddy is always asking me, "Well, when are you going to start bringing some fresh money into the family?"

I tell him that, after all, I am just a little girl only 6 years old getting ready to start first grade.

"That's no excuse. Idleness never pays. When I was your age I was sweeping out my father's grocery store—for a dime a year," he says.

Daddy says somewheres he still has that first dime he earned—mama says he probably has the second one too—but he never seems to have it when I want an ice cream cone.

"Well, if you worked for your daddy, I'll work for you," I told him the other night. "But I want 20 cents a year."

He finally agreed to pay 15.

My first assignment was to interview Chuck Connors, who plays on television and is one of my favorite actors. Daddy came along too, so I guess the lunch must have been free.

Well, guess what Chuck Connors is nearly 6½ feet tall and weighs 217 pounds, and is strong enough to crush a kindergarten teacher in each hand.

I was so surprised I laid down on the restaurant seat and hid my face in my hands.

"I can see your freckles," said Chuck, and I said I hated them, and he said, "I've got freckles on my back, but you can't see them. And I've got four boys of my own, but I sure wish I had a couple of little girls, too."

Well, he was so nice I sat up and ate a hamburger and some strawberry ice cream. Chuck ate a martini and some tomato juice, some chopped chicken liver, 12 cherry stone clams, and a great big hamburger and some coffee, and where it all went I don't know. Actors sure must get hungry.

Well, Chuck said he used to play baseball for the Chicago Cubs, and he showed me the little finger he broke once playing professional basketball in Boston. It is still bent—just like a measuring worm.

One day a movie company paid Chuck $500 for one day's work on a picture, and he decided right then baseball was just a boy's game. I asked him how long it would take a little girl to make $500 if she only got 15 cents a year, and Chuck looked surprised and said, "Oh, about 3,333 years." Daddy harrumphed and turned red.

Well, Chuck said being a Western star wasn't all hay and oats. He was born in Brooklyn and had trouble staying in a subway saddle until four years ago when he bought a horse for $50 and learned how to ride. He said he paid an old movie cowboy to teach him how to be a cowboy, too.

He also had to learn to shoot a rifle, and now he says he can shoot a rifle six times in two seconds with either hand. I asked him if he could shoot faster than Marshal Dillon, and he asked, "Who?"

Chuck said he didn't like violence and that of his last 40 films, nobody was shot in 20 of them, and that he really wouldn't actually shoot anybody, not even for money—not even a producer. It's all an act with him.

Well, I guess I won't be doing any more interviews. I'm not going to work for Daddy anymore. I'm not going to grow up and be a nurse either. I'm going to buy a horse and a rifle and go out West with Chuck Connors where the real ice cream money is.

A FINE CATCH — There's a boy up in Claremont, N.H., who raises whales in his garden. Twelve-year-old Tommy Osipowich holds a miniature but realistic Moby Dick he "grew." It's made of a summer squash with peppers for eyes, and won Tommy first prize in the children's division at the annual Claremont flower show.

Here's Recipe for Leftover Turkey

Here's a recipe to answer that big question—how can I use all this leftover turkey? The wilted cucumber recipe makes good salad sense, too.

Sweet and Pungent Turkey
(Makes 6 servings)

Two tablespoons salad oil, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) sliced pineapple, 1 jar (8 ounces) large sweet gherkins, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon ground ginger, 4 cups diced, cooked turkey, 2 green peppers, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup water, 4 cups hot cooked rice, 1 can (3½ ounces) flaked coconut.

Heat oil over moderate heat (in electric skillet with tempeature control set at 350 degrees F.) Add onions and cook 5 minutes. Drain mushroom juice, pineapple juice and pickle juice into a pint measuring cup and add enough water to make 1 pint. Pour liquid into skillet and stir in salt and ginger. Add turkey, mushrooms, pineapple cut in trirds, and pickles cut diagonally in thirds. Cook covered until thoroughly hot—about 5 minutes. Add green pepper cut in eighths lengthwise. Blend together cornstarch and water add ad gradually, stirring until thickened. Serve with hot cooked rice and garnish with flaked coconut.

Wilted Cucumbers
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

Two-thirds cup salad oil, 1-3 cup vinegar, 2 teaspoons marjoram or basil, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 cucumbers, thinly sliced, 3 medium onions, thinly sliced.

Mix oil, vinegar and seasonings; add cucumbers and onions. Marinate several hours or overnight.

Saucy Steak Is Variation of Favorite Recipe

Ask the man of the house to name his favorite meat, and nine out of ten times it's going to be 'steak."

For a tasty change of pace, add this recipe for "Saucy Steak" to your files. It adds the zesty flavors of onion soup, celery seed and chili sauce to the meat in a variation of the old favorite, Swiss Steak.

Saucy Steak

1 beef round steak, cut ½ inch thick, ¼ cup flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons lard or drippings, 1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed onion soup, ½ teaspoon celery seed, 2 tablespoons chili sauce.

Mix together flour, salt and pepper. Pound steak with seasoned flour to ¼-inch thickness. Cut into serving pieces. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings.

Add onion soup, water, celery seed and chili sauce. Cover tightly and simmer 1 hours or until meat is tender.

Caramel Bars

Use 1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or margarine, ¾ cup light brown sugar (firmly packed), 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg, candy-type pieces, ¾ cup coarsely broke walnuts.

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Melt butter in a 1-quart saucepan over low heat; remove from heat; mix in brown sugar and vanilla. Beat egg until thick and ivory colored; stir into butter mixture.

Stir in sifted dry ingredients, a little at a time, then caramel pieces and walnuts. Turn into greased baking pan (9 by 9 by 1¾ inches); bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until top is set; do not overbake; insides should be soft. Place on rack to cool.

Cut in bars and remove with spatula. Wrap tightly, then store in tightly-covered container.

Chef's Salad

Ingredients: 2 cups (packed down) torn pieces romaine, 1 cup thin strips cooked smoked tongue, ¾ cup thin strips Swiss or cheddar cheese, ¼ cup minced parsley, ¼ cup thin strips green pepper, 6 pitted ripe olives (halved or quartered), 2 to 3 tablespoons spicy French dressing (made from a mix).

Method: Put all the ingredients except the dressing in a large salad bowl.

If not to be tossed at once, cover and chill. Just before serving add dressing and toss lightly but well. Makes 2 giant servings.

Crabmeat Salad

Use 3 cans (6½ ounces each) king crabmeat, ½ cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons catchup, ¼ of a large lemon, 1 tablespoon drained capers, romaine, 1 cucumber, 1 small onion (preferably red), 1 tablespoon red wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon sugar.

Drain crabmeat; remove cartilage; reserve some of the large pink pieces of crab for a garnish. mix together the mayonnaise, catch-up, juice from the lemon and capers; mix lightly with crab.

Arrange romaine leaves on a large shallow salad bowl; mound crab mixture in center. Top with reserved crabmeat pieces. Arrange sliced cucumber and green pepper rings on romaine around it. Peel, slice and separate onion into thin rings, marinate in vinegar and sugar.

Cover salad bowl and refrigerate until serving time; add onion rings to garnish and dribble small amount of marinade over romaine.

Cabbage Frances

Ingredients: 1½ pounds red cabbage, 2 tart green apples, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon white pepper, 1-3 cup tarragon vinegar, 1-3 cup dark brown sugar (firmly packed), 2 cups water.

Method: Shred cabbage thin with a sharp knife; there should be 8 cups. Peel apples and slice thin.

Melt butter in a fairly large saucepan; add cabbage apple and remaining ingredients; mix well Cook slowly, cover ajar, for 2 to 2½ hours.

Cabbage will be very tender, apple will be disintegrated and flavors will have blended well. Serve very hot. Makes 8 servings.

Ginger Thinsies

Ingredients: 2¼ cups sifted flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teapoon cinnamon ½ teaspoon ginger, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ¾ cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, ¼ cup dark molasses, 1 egg, extra sugar.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder,salt and spices. Mix in sifted dry ingredients until blended.

Cover and chill overnight. Shape into balls about 1¼ inches in diameter; roll in extra sugar; place on greased cookie sheets at least 5 inches apart; flatten each ball with the tines of a fork.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until lightly brown—6 to 8 minutes or until baked through. Cookies will be quite thin; do not bake so much that edges are deep brown. Makes about 50 cookies.

Orange Date Muffins Are Tasty Treat

When a young husband decides to become a "breakfast specialist," the household is playing in luck. Although breakfast is a vitally important meal in terms of stamina stability and general health, it is too often given the brush-off treatment.

Jackie Walsh of Los Angeles, reports on the results of her "breakfast expert" husband's efforts. "He introduced us to new and unusual combinations of juices, led us through many boxes of cereal, acquainted us with all the new mixes and, above all, has taught us that breakfast need not be dull or the same old thing all the time," she said enthusiastically.

"Besides being fun, our 'adventure' has been important to our health. It didn't take us long to realize that because our daily schedules were demanding, well-balanced daily meals, beginning with a good, hearty breakfast, were a must.

"Our weekday breakfasts usually consist of fruit or fruit juice, cereal, either cooked or dry, rolls, milk and coffee; or fruit, eggs, muffins or toast, milk and coffee. The weekend breakfasts are usually a more elaborate menu." She added that when she married tall John— feet, 4 inches—he was very thin. Now, 30 pounds heavier, in good health, he explains, "modern eating and a good breakfast did it."

Tall John Walsh brags about his breakfast orange date muffins. Says they are good for supper parties, too.

Orange Date Muffins
(Yield: 8 to 10 large muffins)

One cup sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ cup sugar, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup soft shortening, ½ cup rolled oats, quick; ½ cup chopped dates, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 egg, ¾ cup milk.

Sift together flour, salt, sugar and baking powder. Cut in shortening with a pastryblender as for pie crust. Add rolled oats, dates, and grated orange rind. Lightly stir in beaten egg and milk until just blended. Fill buttered muffin cups 2-3 full. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes, or until done. Cool and freeze if desired. Note: For orange nut muffins, substitute ½ cup finely chopped nuts for the dates in above recipe.
